

Use this form after a visa application has been lodged and you wish to add an additional applicant to your visa application. This form can only be used:

- before a decision has been made on your original visa application; and
- if the visa allows additional applicants to be added after lodgement.

See www.homeaffairs.gov.au to find out if you can add an applicant to your visa application. For more information on who you might be able to add, see www.homeaffairs.gov.au/trav/visa/incl

Important: If the person who is seeking to be added is not either a dependent child or partner (spouse or de facto) of the main applicant who lodged the original visa application, then generally they will need to complete a separate visa application form and pay the base application charge and other applicable charges needed to lodge a visa application.

What documents do I need to include?

You must include documentary evidence about the additional applicant. Use the document checklist in the original visa application or follow the links from www.homeaffairs.gov.au to find the relevant document checklist for information about documents that you may need to include.

Where do I send the completed form?

Send this completed form to the address:

- in the original visa application form; or
- in the acknowledgement letter or email that was sent to you after the original visa application was lodged; or
- of the relevant Australian Processing Centre for your visa, see www.homeaffairs.gov.au/about/contact/offices-locations

We will contact you if more information is needed.
