Summary of main points:

These Instructions & Guidelines will document current policy surrounding the following subjects:

• Identification and classification of weapons (non firearms)

Introduction

These Instructions & Guidelines are intended to be used internally by any officers who may be required to assess imported goods, or goods intended to be imported.

The Customs (Prohibited Imports) Regulations 1956 (the Regulations) list goods that are either prohibited entirely, or restricted without the appropriate permission or fulfilling certain requirements or conditions.

Weapons, being non firearms, are listed within Schedule 3 and 13 of the Regulations and policy responsibility for goods of this nature lies with the Firearms & Weapons section within Trade Policy Branch in Central Office.

Non firearm weapons can be imported if the import complies with the relevant test, requirements and/or conditions subject to the weapon type.

For items subject to test specified in Schedule 13 of the Regulations, the National Manager of Trade Policy Branch is the main permit issuing officer within the Australian Customs and Border Protection Service (Customs and Border Protection) authorised to approve such importation by the Minister for Home Affairs under Regulation 4H of the Regulations.

Background to Schedule 13 Weapons Controls

The first control on weapons was introduced by proclamation in 1923.

In 1935 weapons were included in Item 18 of Schedule 2 of the Regulations, at the request of Police authorities. Item 18 controlled dangerous concealable weapons such as swordsticks, knuckle dusters, sling shots, bludgeons etc.

In 1946, the control was extended to cover dangerous goods, specifically those goods that in the opinion of the Minister were of a dangerous character and a menace to the community. Daggers, flick knives, concealed knives and star knives and blowpipe darts tipped with poison were also controlled under Item 18.

In 1970, the dangerous and concealed weapons of 1935 were placed into their own items, as difficulty had been encountered in the bringing of prosecutions in connection with unlawful importations under Item 18. It was considered that such weapons had no apparent lawful utilitarian purpose but seemed to have been designed as dangerous concealable weapons.

Items of warfare became a concern after the Vietnam War when servicemen began bringing war souvenirs back to Australia. As a result, these goods were included within Item 18.

The prohibition on body armour falling to Item 29A was gazetted on 16 September 1977. It arose out of representations from the NSW government over concerns that such apparel could be readily available for use in criminal activities.

On 14 September 1990 the Full Court of the Federal Court of Australia unanimously held (in its decision in Robert Alfred Turnery and Barry Owen Jones vs Ronald Owen, No. G12 of 1990) that Item 18 was invalid, as it was an unauthorised delegation to the Minister of the Governor-General's power to prohibit the importation of goods. The Court held such a delegation was not permitted by the empowering sections in the Customs Act 1901.

As a result of the Court's decision, dangerous goods, which were previously prohibited under Item 18, lost their status as, prohibited imports, and therefore could no longer be controlled or seized at the Customs and Border Protection barrier.

On 12 October 1990, at the request of the Australian Police Ministers' Council (APMC), legislation was amended and concealed guns, knives or blades and star knives or similar devices were listed separately under their own items, Item 21 and 23 of Schedule 2. It was felt that these concealed guns, knives or blades were offensive weapons and had no legitimate use. Star knives were prohibited to limit the availability of such dangerous weapons to martial arts clubs, which could demonstrate a legitimate use for the goods.

Gloves incorporating protrusions and hunting slings, catapults and sling shots were listed separately under their own items, Items 20 and 22 of Schedule 2.

It was felt that these goods were dangerous and had no legitimate civilian use, and in the case of the hunting slings, were capable of propelling missiles at high speed causing serious injury.

Items of warfare were listed separately under their own item, Item 8 of Schedule 2. It was felt that these goods had no legitimate civilian use and their prohibition was imposed to limit their availability to the defence forces.

Anti-personnel devices (hand held electric shock devices, acoustic anti-personnel devices and devices for discharging a gas or liquid) were listed separately under their own items, Items 12, 13 and 14 of Schedule 2. It was felt that these goods had no legitimate civilian use and such devices could cause great injury to victims.

Blowpipe darts tipped with poison were listed separately under their own item, Item 18A of Schedule 2. It was felt that these goods had no legitimate civilian use and could cause fatal injury.

On 22 November 1990 the APMC resolved to support the "positive generic statement" on permitted imports. This led to the adoption of Form B709B as a mechanism for State and Territory Police to advise Customs and Border Protection if a person attempting to import a prohibited weapon was licensed in the relevant State/Territory to possess the item or was not required to be authorised to possess the item.

In 1993, the APMC requested the insertion of ballistic knives which were inserted as a new item, item 18D.

Also on APMC request, blowpipe darts tipped with poison were replaced by blowpipe and blowgun darts, now falling to Item 18A. Blowpipes and blowguns were inserted as a new item, Item18. Nunchakus were inserted as a new item, Item 18B. Crossbows, crossbow darts and crossbow bolts were inserted as a new item, Item 18C.

In 1995, at the request of the Government and endorsed by the APMC, the Regulations were amended to include only pistol crossbows. This removed previous restrictions on (non-pistol) crossbows, crossbow darts and crossbow bolts. The relevant explanatory Statement explains that the substitution "now exempts from the control the more traditional crossbow which is most commonly used by sporting associations and is not now regarded as a sufficient threat to the community to warrant a prohibited import control".

In 1998, the APMC resolved to develop a uniform prohibited weapons list. That list was agreed to and supported by the APMC in November 1999. As a consequence, the definitions of Items 9, 18D, 19, 21 and 23 (daggers, ballistic knives, flick knives, concealed knives, star knives) were amended to ensure those descriptions were consistent with the APMC list. The definition of Item 18C was amended to ensure the description was consistent with the APMC list, which no longer included darts or bolts.

The uniform prohibited weapons list also resulted in the addition of other knives falling to Items 35, 36, 37, 38, 39 and 42 (sheath knives, push knives, trench knives, throwing blades, non-metallic knives, and butterfly knives). The uniform prohibited weapons list also resulted in the addition of Items 41, 43, 44, 45, 46 and 47 (weighted gloves, shark darts, dart projectors, maces, flails, and extendable batons), and the addition of martial arts weapons falling to Items 40 (hand/foot claws).

In August 2005, the Item 18C restriction on pistol crossbows was amended to once again restrict all crossbows. The APMC resolved that, to ensure consistency across State, Territory and Commonwealth legislation, all jurisdictions would control all crossbows.

In November 2005, Item 29A was amended following a judgement in the Federal Court that held that the original item 29A controlled body armour which protected against projectiles discharged from a firearm but not other projectiles. The amendment was intended to extend the definition of body armour to apparel designed to protect the body from the effects of fragments emitted from explosive, devices, in addition to projectiles discharged from firearms and the effects of other weapons, including knives.

In May 2008, an additional item was added to Schedule 2, being hand held laser pointers. The control on such items was introduced to assist in reducing the likeliness of incidences where laser pointers are shined at aircraft cockpits impacting on their take off/landing and proving to be a hazard to the pilot's eyes. The control took effect on 1 July 2008.

In December 2011, all weapons controlled under Schedule 2 were moved to a new Schedule, Schedule 13. This was done to implement the Minister's election commitment to strengthen weapons controls.

Schedule 13 requires that weapons con be imported if they comply with one or more requirements as specified in Part 1 of Schedule 13. These requirements are based on those at Schedule 6 for the importation of firearms and related goods and are commonly known as 'tests'. Higher controlled weapons such as law enforcement goods and flick knives, can only be imported for legitimate uses, while lower controlled weapons such as daggers and blowpipes can be imported with Police certification.

In addition to moving the weapons definitions to a new Schedule, the definition for warfare items was amended to exclude certain items of trench art and specify vehicles, aircrafts and vessels are subject to control. This was in response to various Police jurisdictions not having any controls on trench art and various complaints about such controls from collectors. Vehicles, aircraft and vessels have always been subject to control, however, importers were not aware of the control as they were not specifically defined, but captured by the 'parts and accessories' category.

The definition for hand-held electric shock devices was also amended in December 2011 to exclude novelty shock items and most bug zappers. The flick knife definition was also split into two definitions to clarify the types of knives covered without capturing additional knives.

A control on parts for certain weapons was also implemented in December 2011.

Background to Schedule 3 Weapons

Prior to March 2000, anti-personnel sprays were covered under sub-item 8(e) as "gases or liquids designed for the purpose of killing or incapacitating persons".

In June 1999 the APMC resolved to request the Minister for Justice and Customs and Border Protection to amend the Customs (Prohibited Imports) Regulations 1956 (the 'Regulations') to ban the importation of anti-personnel sprays, or of chemicals used in their manufacture, for purposes other than law enforcement or correctional purposes.

The decision arose from concern about the increased likelihood of these sprays being used against members of the public and police officers and the potential for interstate trade of prohibited weapons in the absence of a consistent national licensing regime.

The importation of anti-personnel sprays and chemicals for use in the manufacture of anti-personnel sprays was prohibited without import approval from 29 March 2000, falling to Item 1 of Schedule 3 of the Regulations.

In March 2002, the Regulations were amended to cover grenades and canisters for use with anti-personnel sprays or chemicals and allow importation for Commonwealth government use, subject to the permit requirements.

In June 2008, the Regulations were amended to cover importations for use by the following agencies in addition to the Commonwealth, State/Territory Police and State/Territory Correctional facilities:

- the Office of the New South Wales Sheriff
- the Department of Primary Industries of Victoria
- the Department of Sustainability and Environment of Victoria
- the Office of Police Integrity of Victoria
- the Department of Primary Industries and Resources of South Australia.

The regulation was also amended at this time to allow the importation of such goods into Australia for export to the United Nations or a government of a country other than Australia by an Australian importer who has a contract with the United Nations or a government of another country.

In December 2010, the Regulations were amended to include the Police Integrity Commission of New South Wales in the list of end users. The requirement for a contract to be in place when the goods are being imported for export to the United Nations or the Government of another country was removed as it imposed an unnecessary burden on importers – other end user documentation is still required.

The December 2010 amendment also included the merging of Items 1 and 1A.

Prohibited & Restricted Goods SharePoint Site

IN 2004, an electronic tool for the recording of controlled and non controlled goods classified by the Trade Policy Branch, being the Prohibited Goods Reference Library (PGRL).

In September 2010, the PGRL was replaced by a SharePoint site to which all Customs officers have access. The SharePoint application provides users with greater access to a wide range of information in addition to the classification of weapons, such as fact sheets, Instructions & Guidelines and Practice Statements.

The Firearms and Weapons section of the Prohibited and Restricted Goods SharePoint site contains descriptions and photographs of goods and how they have been classified by the Firearms and Weapons section.

The Prohibited and Restricted Goods SharePoint site is accessible at http://acapp001/prohibitedRestrictedGoods/default.aspx.

INSTRUCTIONS AND GUIDELINES

1. Schedule 13 Weapons

Item 1 Definition and Policy – Warfare Goods

Any of, or any combination of, the following appliances or equipment that has been designed or adapted for warfare or like purposes other than appliances or equipment that:

- a) is modified or decorated by soldiers, prisoners of war or civilians for use as souvenirs or household ornaments (commonly known as trench art); and
- b) is not able to be restored to it's original use.

Dazzle or decoy devices.

Equipment designed or adapted for the making of smoke screens.

Explosives or incendiary materials.

Flame throwers.

Gases or liquids designed for the purpose of killing or incapacitating persons, and devices or apparatus designed or adapted for use with those goods.

Grenades of any type, whether charged or not.

Large calibre armament, weapons, launchers, throwers and projectors, whether or not mounted on vehicles, ships or aircraft, that are designed for grenades, bombs, rockets or any other missile, ammunition or substance, including the following:

- a) cannon;
- b) guns, including self-propelled guns;
- c) howitzers;
- d) mortars;
- e) projectile launchers;
- f) recoilless rifles;
- g) tank destroyers.

Mines (whether charged or not).

Projectiles, bombs, rockets or any other missile, ammunition (other than ammunition to which Part 2 of Schedule 6 applies) or substance (whether charged or not).

Trip flares.

Tanks, other military vehicles, military aircraft (manned or unmanned), military helicopters (manned or unmanned), naval vessels (surface and submarine vessels armed or equipped for military use).

Parts, accessories and components (other than components of ammunition to which Part 2 of Schedule 6 applies) designed or adapted for, or for use with, any of the goods to which this item applies.

"Trench art" is now exempt from the controls. Trench art is the term used to describe items of warfare, or remnant parts, modified or decorated by soldiers, prisoners of war or civilians and which are acquired as souvenirs, collectors items or household ornaments. Common examples of trench art encountered at the border include painted or decorated war materials such as artillery shell cases which are often significantly altered into non warfare items such as ash trays or umbrella stands.

However, not all trench art items are exempt from import controls. This is because some items may still have operable parts or components that are subject to import controls, because they may be able to be restored to their original use or purpose. For example gluing or soldering a collection of components of ammunition into a pattern or figure (such as a tank or horse) would not constitute trench art as these items if dismantled would still remain in an operable state. Similarly a grenade body attached to a base or stand may not be treated as trench art – as the item remains in a potentially operable state. However, an inert artillery shell casing that has been finely engraved or cut or shaped into a new item (such as a vase or a jug) is considered trench art and exempt from import permit controls.

Dazzle and decoy devices includes 'flash-bang' or 'thunderflash' devices which simulate grenade explosions and discharge with a loud noise and/or a bright flash.

Equipment designed or adapted for the making of smoke screens includes smoke grenades designed to reduce visibility in an area.

Flame throwers includes flame throwers of all kinds but excludes devices for use in fire fighting (eg back-burning).

There are unlikely to be chemicals that fit under gases or liquids designed for the purpose of killing or incapacitating persons, and devices or apparatus designed or adapted for use with those goods are not already covered under Schedule 3 Item 1 (anti-personnel chemicals) or Schedule 11 (goods covered by the Chemical Weapons Convention).

Grenades of any type excludes grenades used for dispersing anti-personnel sprays and chemicals controlled under Schedule 3, Item 1. Grenades of any type includes inert and deactivated grenades.

Large calibre armament refers to any armament of a calibre greater than 12.7mm (known as 50 calibre). Armaments with a calibre of exactly 0.50 should be treated as a Schedule 6 firearm unless the armament is designed to be operated by a crew (i.e. usually requires one or more people to operate, vehicle mounted). Any armament with exactly 0.50 calibre (12.7mm) that is operated by a crew is a warfare item. This cut-off was determined in consultation with the Attorney-General's Department. Their concern is commercially available 0.50 calibre (12.7mm) target rifles that may not be controlled if they were not covered by Regulation 4F Schedule 6.

Mines (whether charged or not) includes land mines (anti-personnel and anti-vehicle) and sea mines (anti ship).

Projectiles, bombs, rockets or any other missile, ammunition (other than ammunition to which Part 2 of Schedule 6 applies) or substance (whether charged or not) includes ammunition with a calibre greater that 0.50 calibre (12.7mm) and ammunition that is exactly 0.50 calibre (12.7mm) that is able to be used with a weapon designed to be operated by a crew.

Trip flares are flares that are designed to be activated by contact made by a person or vehicle.

Military vehicles, aircraft, helicopters and vessels include items designed or adapted for use with any of the items also controlled under this item. Military vehicles such as standard jeeps with armour plating or military ambulances are not captured.

Parts and accessories designed or adapted for, or for use with, any of the goods in the preceding paragraphs of this item includes items such as weapons sights, components for large calibre ammunition and aiming and targeting devices. It is likely that any part or accessory to any item controlled under Item 8 could be controlled at this sub-item, however, in most cases only integral parts are considered to meet the definition but this assessment is made on a case by case basis.

Replicas goods are not controlled under Item 8 as they are not designed or adapted for warfare or like purposes. However, practice grenades are controlled.

Item 2 Definition and Policy - Daggers and Similar Knives

Daggers or similar devices, being sharp pointed stabbing instruments (not including swords or bayonets):

- a) ordinarily capable of concealment on the person; and
- b) having:
 - i) a flat blade with cutting edges (serrated or not serrated) along the length of both sides; or
 - ii) a needle-like blade, the cross section of which is elliptical or has three or more sides; and
- c) made of any material.

Discussions during the development of the Uniform Prohibited Weapons List indicate that trade knives (e.g. butchers knives/chefs knives) were not meant to be included in the initial definition, which was intended to cover 'combat knives' specifically designed for fighting.

Item 9 controls small and medium sized stabbing weapons. In the European tradition this weapon category is named dagger.

Customs and Border Protection Agreement with State/Territory Police generally consider a knife that is 40cm or less in overall length to be 'capable of concealment'. However, concealment is also dependant on other characteristics of the knife, such as the thickness and handle design. The 40cm cut off is not firm and should be used as an approximate guide only.

A cutting edge is considered to be a sharpened edge.

Along the length is taken to mean along the ENTIRE length, excluding the ricasso (being the thick portion of the blade joining the blade and the handle) if applicable. Knives with a blade consisting of a sharpened edge along one side, and a partially sharpened second edge, are not considered to have 'cutting edges along the length of both sides'.

The definition of Item 9 makes no reference to curvature of the blade so this does not affect the classification of the item, so long as the point is still effective if the item is used with a stabbing action. Thus a blade that is extremely curved (like a sickle) would not be controlled.

A dagger may have a serrated or scalloped edge but not a saw edge. A serrated edge is an edge formed from a row of small sharp notches or projections. Often the serrations will be 'scalloped' out of one side of the blade. Serrations differ from 'saw-backs' that are often found on the back of camping knives and are used for sawing through pieces of wood. Saw-backs are a row of teeth that are generally not sharp and can be run across the skin without breaking it.

In some cases hunting, rescue and camping knives will also be daggers, however, in the main these knives are distinguishable from daggers. These knives will usually have asymmetrical blades. The top edge will be flat and wide like the spine of a kitchen knife, but not sharp and therefore not a cutting edge.

Some bayonets have dagger-like blades. A bayonet is distinguishable from a dagger by the device or slot incorporated to attach it to a firearm. Bayonets are not controlled on importation into Australia.

Folding knives are not exempt from being classified as a dagger if both edges are sharp as the definition does not make reference to a fixed blade knife.

Concealable letter openers that are sharp along the entire length of both sides are controlled provided they are of sufficient strength and quality construction to be used as an effective stabbing instrument.

Sharp pointed short swords and diving knives that are concealable and have sharpened edges along the entire length of both sides are not exempt from being classified as a dagger.

The Regulations provide no exemption for knives of a ceremonial or ornate nature. If the definition can be applied to knives intended for ceremonial or religious purposes, or of unusual or ornate design, or with multiple blades they will still be controlled as daggers.

The mounting of a knife on a plaque or in a case does not change the knife's character and therefore does not exclude it from the regulations.

Item 3 Definition and Policy - Shock Weapons

Hand-held electric shock devices that are designed to administer a shock on contact, other than the following devices:

- a) cattle prods designed exclusively for use with animals;
- b) hand-held electronic bug zappers that:
 - i) are powered by a storage battery capacity not exceeding 6 volts; and
 - ii) have the electrified grid shielded to prevent contact with the live component;
- c) novelty shock devices that are powered by a storage battery capacity not exceeding 6 volts.

This item includes stun guns, Tasers© and devices such as security briefcases that incorporate an electric shock device and torches that are designed as electric shock devices.

Traditional cattle prods are specifically excluded. These items are generally of longer length (to facilitate use in stock yards/runs) and not as concealable. Modern, compact and concealable cattle prods may be captured under the control.

Novelty shock items were previously captured under this control. However, in February 2011 the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) and Customs and Border Protection resolved to exclude these items from the control provided they are appropriately labelled with safety warnings.

All mozzie zappers were previously controlled, however, the control now only covers those without a protective grid and a large battery.

Mobile phone shock devices may come in many forms, firstly the non controlled, novelty devices. There are novelty mobile phone shock devices that are small, plastic and quite unrealistic. These devices deliver a small shock that is generally harmless. These plastic novelty phones are not controlled but the realistic ones may be 'stunphones'.

The mobile phone shock devices that are considered to be controlled weapons are quite realistic and commonly referred to as 'stunphones'. They generally have the shock prongs at the top or bottom of the phone. Example of 'stunphones' are available in the non-firearm weapons gallery within the firearms and weapons page on the Prohibited and Restricted Goods SharePoint site.

Item 4 Parts for Shock Weapons

Parts for hand-held electric devices to which item 3 applies.

Integral parts such as the prongs are captured under this item is they are imported separately.

Other devices that may be captured under this item are cartridges for use with shock devices.

Item 5 Definition and Policy - Acoustic Weapons

Acoustic anti-personnel devices that are designed:

- a) to cause permanent or temporary incapacity or disability to a person; or
- b) to otherwise physically disorientate a person.

Devices that emit a sound of 130 decibels or higher are considered to be devices that would cause an acoustic shock.

This includes items such as personal sirens that are usually operated by compressed gas. By way of comparison, 130 decibels is the equivalent of a jet aircraft at take off. People start to feel pain at 120 decibels, and permanent hearing loss starts to occur at 140 decibels.

Items such as personal alarms designed to deter an attacker may be considered acoustic anti-personnel devices if they emit a sound 130 decibels and above.

Item 6 Definition and Policy – Hand Held Devices (gas or liquid)

Hand-held battery-operated devices designed to discharge a gas or liquid.

This does not include pressure pack containers of Mace, Capsicum or Pepper Sprays etc. These items are covered under Schedule 3, Item 1.

Item 7 Definition and Policy – Blowpipes and Blowguns

Blow-guns or blow-pipes that are capable of projecting a dart, or other devices that consist of a pipe or tube through which a missile in the form of a dart is capable of being projected by:

- a) the exhaled breath of the user; or
- b) another means other than an explosive.

Discussions during the development of the Uniform Prohibited Weapons List indicate that this item was designed to cover all materials including plastic, wood, and metal being either home made, commercial or traditional. As such, all blowpipes are covered, even if they appear to be toys. The reasoning behind this appears to be that even unsophisticated blowpipes may be used to effectively project a dart.

Item 8 Clarification and Policy - Darts

BCS CLASSIFICATION: Trade Facilitation and Compliance – Goods Control

FILE NUMBER: C2008/04014-01

Darts capable of being projected from:

- a) a blow-gun or blow-pipe; or
- b) another device that consists of a pipe or tube through which a missile in the form of a dart is capable of being projected by:
 - ii) the exhaled breath of the user; or
 - iii) another means other than an explosive.

If the item is a dart to be used with something covered by 18, then it is controlled.

Item 9 Definition and Policy – Nunchakus

Goods of the kind known as nunchakus.

Discussions during the development of the Uniform Prohibited Weapons List indicate that the initial intention of this item was to control items known as nunchaku or kung fu sticks.

The item is broader than nunchakus, and covers any article or device consisting of two or more sticks or bars made of any material that are joined together by any means that allows the sticks or bars to swing independently of each other.

Foam nunchakus are covered by the control as the wording does not specific they have to be made of a specific material or designed to cause harm. However, toys are not controlled, being items made of flimsy plastic that are clearly toys.

Two sectional staffs and three sectional staffs are also covered under this control.

The martial arts weapon 'kuisari-fundo' is also captured by this control.

Item 10 Definition and Policy - Crossbows

Crossbows that, when discharged, are capable of causing:

- (a) damage to property; or
- (b) bodily harm;

other than toy crossbows.

Prior to a regulation change in August 2005 this item covered only pistol crossbows, designed to be used with one hand and capable of causing damage to property or bodily harm.

The Australasian Police Ministers' Council in 2003 resolved that, to ensure consistency across State, Territory and Commonwealth legislation, all jurisdictions would prohibit all crossbows as opposed to only pistol crossbows.

Standard archery equipment is not covered (eg bows and arrows, including traditional bows or compound bows).

The phrase 'capable of causing damage or bodily harm' primarily refers to the draw weight of the crossbow (ie the amount of force it takes to pull the crossbow into a firing position). In simple terms, if the crossbow could be loaded and fired at another person a couple of metres away without causing any form of injury, the crossbow is not controlled.

If the crossbow has no cord, or a cord that is too flimsy to draw the crossbow, this does not imply the crossbow isn't capable of causing damage/harm as the crossbow could be made effective by the addition of a suitable cord. In this instance, it is essential to gain some estimate of the power contained in the crossbow itself (i.e. in the flex of the bow).

There are some crossbows that are fitted with firearms parts controlled under Schedule 6 of the Regulations, and therefore require a permit under both Schedule 2 and Schedule 6.

Item 11 Definition and Policy – Parts for Crossbows

Parts for crossbows to which item 10 applies.

The intent of this item is to capture crossbow frames that are often imported without the band. While these items were previously captured under Schedule 2, the specific item number for parts of crossbows clarifies that these items are controlled.

Item 12 Definition and Policy - Ballistic Knives

Ballistic knives, being knives that discharge a blade as a projectile by a spring mechanism or other means.

Discussions during the development of the Uniform Prohibited Weapons List imply that discharge via an explosive would still be covered under this item.

One of the earlier types of this knife was an originally designed Soviet Spetsnaz troops issue knife. The knife was spring operated and designed to kill silently through soft body armour. The effective range of the weapon was about 5 metres.

Item 13 Definition and Policy

Parts of ballistic knives described in item 12.

The intent of this control is to capture these items when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

If we have no evidence to suggest the items are being imported for the construction of a ballistic knife, the goods should not be seized.

Item 14 Definition and Policy – Automatic knives

Automatic knives that have a blade folded or recessed into the handle which are designed or adapted to open automatically by pressure applied to any spring, device, stud or button in or attached to the handle or blade of the knife, including knives commonly known as flick knives, switchblades, assisted opening knives or flipper knives.

Knives that contain a spring or other internal mechanism that assist the blade to open are considered to be automatic knives under this item such as traditional switchblades and stiletto knives.

Knives that require initial pressure to be applied to the thumb stud and then the blade continues to open without further assistance are also considered to be automatic knives under this item.

Additionally, all knives fitted with what is commonly referred to as a 'flipper' also fall to this item. Flippers are intended to enable a knife to be opened rapidly. Most 'flipper' knives also meet the definition of a single handed knife under Item 16 as they can usually also be opened with centrifugal force/gravity/inertia.

Item 15 Definition and Policy – Parts for Automatic Knives

Parts for automatic knives described in item 14.

The intent of this control is to capture these items when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

If an automatic opening comb knife (or similar) is imported and the handle is of a sturdy strength that would enable the comb to be swapped to a blade and remain automatic, it should be seized as a part for an automatic knife.

If we have no evidence to suggest the items are being imported for the construction of an automatic knife, the goods should not be seized.

Item 16 Definition and Policy – Single Handed Opening Knives

Single handed opening knives, being knives that have a blade folded or recessed into the handle which is capable of being opened by gravity, inertia or centrifugal force.

The scope of the definition remains unchanged, but clarifies the intention of terms utilised to describe the opening methods of the various knives with deployable blades, including:

- (a) a knife that opens through the use of inertia and or centrifugal force. This is intended to cover knives where the blade of the folding knife may be fully opened with the flick or double-action of the wrist. The requirement for some skill to release the blade into a fully opened position utilising centrifugal or inertial force is not intended to preclude a knife from being a classified as a single handed opening knife.
- (b) a knife that opens through the use of gravity. This is intended to cover knives which may be opened by force of gravity. The knife may be additionally controlled by a lever or button, but typically, applying pressure to such a device and pointing the knife downward will result in the knife's blade releasing and locking into place.

To open a knife using inertia or centrifugal force you may need to hold the knife in the hand in a horizontal position to the floor with the blade facing toward the floor and then move the knife in a downward then upward position with the force of your wrist. This technique has been found to be the easiest method to open knives using centrifugal force. However, there are other techniques that can be used. Please contact Firearms and Weapons Policy for video examples.

A knife must be openable by gravity, inertia or centrifugal force from the fully closed position to the fully open position for it to meet the definition. It cannot open using gravity, inertia and centrifugal force along with a manual movement from the user. For example, a knife that requires the user to open the blade partially using a manual movement and then use centrifugal force to continue opening the knife is not controlled.

The definition is not meant to cover knives such as Stanley knives or craft knives that have a blade that extends if the user pushes a sliding button. When the user stops pushing the slide, the knife stops extending, so the knife is not automatic.

The definition is not meant to cover shaving blades, which can be opened via inertia or centrifugal force.

Item 17 Definition and Policy – Parts for Single Handed Opening Knives

Parts for single handed opening knives described in item 16.

The intent of this control is to capture these items when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

If a single handed opening comb knife (or similar) is imported and the handle is of a sturdy strength that would enable the comb to be swapped to a blade and remain single handed opening, it should be seized as a part for a single handed opening knife.

If we have no evidence to suggest the items are being imported for the construction of a single handed knife, the goods should not be seized.

Item 18 Definition and Policy - Knuckle-dusters

Knuckle-dusters or similar devices that can be fitted over the knuckles of the hand of the user:

- a) to protect the knuckles; and
- b) to increase the effect of a punch or other blow;

whether the device has been manufactured for those purposes or adapted for those purposes.

This control does not require the weapon to fit over all knuckles of the hand. While knuckle dusters are a weapon that fits over all four fingers, the definition is designed to cover other configurations including rings.

Section 23 of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901 states that words in the singular number include the plural and words in the plural number include the singular. In other words, the word knuckles can also be read as knuckle and consequently rings may be covered.

Whether a ring is designed as a weapon or simply contains a large stone/jewel is a point for case-by-case interpretation. Generally, the construction of the ring gives an indication of the intention of the item. A cosmetic ring would generally not be able to sustain repeated use as a weapon (eg a traditional engagement ring where the stone/jewel is set in a 'claw setting').

The material from which a ring is made from may also be taken into consideration when classifying items under this control.

Knuckleduster bags and purses are covered provided they are of a reasonable size that can be fitted over the knuckles of the user.

Knuckleduster mugs are also covered.

Item 19 Definition and Policy – Gloves with Protrusions

Gloves, or similar coverings for the hand, incorporating protrusions designed to puncture or bruise the skin.

This item includes fingerless gloves and straps designed to wrap around the hand.

The control captures gloves that have blades attached, which may also be captured under Item 31.

Item 20 Definition and Policy - Concealed Blades, Knives and Spikes

Goods incorporating:

- a) a concealed knife of any length, made of any material; or
- b) a concealed blade of any length, made of any material; or
- c) a concealed spike of any length, made of any material.

This item covers any goods that disguise or conceal, a single edged or multi edged knife, blade or spike, regardless of the length of the item, and regardless of the material from which the item is made.

This item includes goods that look like weapons. For example a knife concealed within a non-telescopic baton would fall within Item 20. Some swords may meet the definition in Item 20 when the sword has no hilt and appears to be a stick, baton or cane.

Items which appear to be toys, ornaments, key rings or miniatures with a knife, blade or spike that is partly visible when looking at the item, but may not be readily identifiable (without close inspection or by an untrained eye) as a knife, blade, or spike are considered to incorporate a concealed knife, blade or spike and therefore meet the definition.

This item does not cover pocket knives such as Swiss Army knives, Leathermans or similar articles. These items are readily identifiable as knives even though the blade is concealed from view. Just as a knife, blade or spike contained within a standard sheath would not be considered to be a concealed knife, blade or spike as the sheath is a standard accessory used to protect and contain the knife, not to conceal it.

Item 21 Definition and Policy – Slingshots

Hunting slings, catapults or sling shots designed for use with, or a component part of which is, a brace that:

- a) fits or rests upon the forearm or upon another part of the body of the user; and
- b) supports the wrist or forearm against the tension of any material used to propel a projectile.

This definition covers slingshots with an arm brace attached and also slingshots without an arm brace attached but which are designed to allow attachment of an arm brace.

Slingshots imported without the wrist brace and with rivets permanently filling the holes in the handles would not fall within Item 21. However, a temporary modification of the slingshot by the addition of removable rivets or wrist straps does not change the fact that the slingshots were designed for use with arm braces. An item so modified would fall within Item 21.

Braces designed for use with slingshots are controlled under Item 22.

Item 22 Definition and Policy - Parts for Slingshots

Parts for hunting slings, catapults or sling shots described in item 21.

The intent of this control is to capture these items when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

An arm brace is a prime example of a slingshot part that can be seized when imported alone.

Item 23 Definition and Policy - Star Knives

Star knives or similar devices:

- a) consisting of more than one angular point, blade or spike, disposed outwardly about a central axis point; and
- b) made of any material.

From the definition, a throwing star is simply a flat piece of metal with sharpened points. Items of any material and any design are covered, regardless of whether they have been designed as a throwing star, or are some other item that has been adapted to spin when thrown, and penetrate a target.

A throwing star is simply a flat piece of metal with sharpened points. Items of any material and any design are covered, regardless of whether they have been designed as a throwing star.

There are additional items, other than the traditional styled star knives, that ay be covered by this control. The only restriction on control, is the ability of the items to inflict an injury. The item is not meant to control toys like 'Tazos', jewellery or rubber/foam items

Item 24 Definition and Policy – Sheath Knives

Sheath knives or similar devices:

- a) having a sheath which withdraws into its handle:
 - i) by gravity or centrifugal force; or
 - ii) if pressure is applied to a button, spring or device attached to or forming part of the sheath, handle or blade of the knife; and
- b) made of any material.

A sheath knife is a fixed blade knife that has a moveable sheath that covers the blade but retracts when the knife is to be used and the blade withdraws into the handle when not in use. A sheath knife is designed to be used with one hand.

Item 25 Definition and Policy – Parts for Sheath Knives

Parts for sheath knives or similar devices described in item 24.

The intent of this control is to capture these items when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

If we have no evidence to suggest the items are being imported for the construction of a sheath knife, the goods should not be seized.

Item 26 Definition and Policy – Push Knives

Push knives or similar devices:

- designed as weapons that consist of a single-edged or multi-edged blade or spike that:
 - i) has a handle fitted transversely to the blade or spike; and
 - ii) allows the blade or spike to be supported by the palm of the hand so that stabbing blows or slashes can be inflicted by a punching or pushing action; and
- b) made of any material.

Transverse means extending or proceeding in a cross-wise direction, lying or running across. A transverse blade does not have to cross the handle at 90 degrees.

There are numerous knives on the market that are used for camping and fishing and have a handle and a hole in the blade allowing the knife to be held in a manner similar to a push knife. These knives are not controlled as they are designed to allow the user to apply force without the knife slipping out of their hand when scaling fish and skinning game, etc.

Item 27 Definition and Policy - Trench Knives

Trench knives or similar devices that consist of a single-edged or multi-edged blade or spike:

- a) fitted with a handle made of any hard substance that can be fitted over the knuckles of the hand of the user:
 - i) to protect the knuckles and
 - ii) to increase the effect of a punch or blow; and
- b) made of any material;

whether the device has been manufactured for those purposes or adapted for those purposes.

The part of the knife that fits over the knuckles does not have to cover all four knuckles. While not the same wording as Item 19A, the same principle is used, such that as long as the covering protects the knuckles and increases the effect of a punch or blow it is considered a trench knife.

Butterfly swords that are used for martial arts are in most cases considered to be trench knives, as the knuckle guard is designed to protect the knuckles and increase the effects of a punch or blow.

Standard cutlasses found on traditional styled swords are ornate in design and are not intended to increase the effect of a punch or blow or provide protection.

Item 28 Definition and Policy – Parts for Trench Knives

Parts for trench knives or similar devices described in item 27.

The intention of this control is to cover trench handles imported separately from the knife. Or knives imported with the trench handle removed.

Item 29 Definition and Policy - Throwing Blades, Knives and Axes

Throwing blades, throwing knives, or throwing axes:

- a) designed or modified to be thrown; and
- b) made of any material.

Any blade/knife/axe can be thrown. This item is designed to cover items that are explicitly designed for this purpose. There are several design features that make an item more effective as a 'thrower' as detailed in the following points.

Throwing knives and throwing axes generally have a simple design with a fixed blade and a clean thin handle. Throwing knives should be evenly weighted or have majority of the weight in the blade rather than the handle.

A traditional American Indian Tomahawk is the quintessential throwing axe, so most throwing axes are similarly designed and weighted.

Item 30 Definition and Policy - Non-Metallic Knives, Blades and Spikes

Knives, blades or spikes which are neither metallic nor ceramic, other than plastic cutlery.

Discussions during the development of the Uniform Prohibited Weapons List indicate that this item is intended to cover goods made from materials such as hard plastic, carbon fibre and any other non-metallic or non-ceramic material. The intention is to catch knives that may be used to by-pass airport security tools, such as the 'Frequent Flyer' developed for the use Army Delta Forces to take onto commercial airliners during covert insertions.

This item does not cover martial arts training knives that are often made of wood or rubber and are neither sharp, nor pointed. These items are not designed to be weapons, and could not effectively be used as such. The control is designed to cover items of hard plastic or carbon fibre that can be sharpened to be an effective weapon.

Item 31 Definition and Policy – Hand and Foot Claws

Hand or foot claws, being articles consisting of claws that are made or modified to be attached to or worn on the hands or feet.

These items may also be referred to as 'ninja claws'.

The definition includes devices worn on a finger or toe. Legal advice obtained on numerous occasions form the Customs and Border Protection Legal Unit advises that Section 23 of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901 states that words in the singular number include the plural and words in the plural number include the singular. In other words, the word hand can be read as finger.

The item does not include goods such as hay baling spikes, "cramp ons" designed for mountain climbing or log rolling foot spikes.

Item 32 Definition and Policy – Weighted Gloves

Weighted gloves or similar articles (including a fingerless glove) consisting of a weighted glove designed or constructed to be used as a weapon.

BCS CLASSIFICATION: Trade Facilitation and Compliance – Goods Control

FILE NUMBER: C2008/04014-01

These goods are sometimes described as 'Slap gloves' or 'SAP' gloves. SAP is a brand name. These gloves typically have about 200 grams of powdered shot (or fine steel shot about the size of specs of pepper) sewn into the knuckles to add weight to the glove while maintaining its flexibility so the wearer can still make a fist.

Item 33 Definition and Policy – Butterfly Knives

Butterfly knives, devices known as 'balisongs', or other devices that consist of a singleedged or multi-edged blade or spike that:

- a) fits within two handles attached to the blade or spike by transverse pivot pins; and
- b) is capable of being opened by gravity or centrifugal force.

Balisongs come in many different styles, but are all designed to be opened with one hand. This definition captures training knives of this nature as the definition does not specify the blade must be capable of cutting.

Item 34 Definition and Policy – Parts for Butterfly knives

Parts for butterfly knives, devices known as 'balisongs', or other devices described in item 33.

The intent of this control is to capture these items when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

This item captures training butterfly knives, butterfly combs and similar goods that do not contain a sharp blade but could easily be replaces by one.

Item 35 Definition and Policy – Shark Darts

Shark Darts or similar devices that are designed to expel, on or after contact, a gas or other substance capable of causing bodily harm.

Shark darts operate by releasing carbon dioxide gas into the body of a human or animal, thus causing the body to swell and possibly explode.

There is currently a knife on the market called the Wasp Knife. It is a knife that injects gas on stabbing and is capable of bodily harm and death. The Wasp Knife is controlled as a similar device to a shark dart.

Item 36 Definition and Policy - Parts for Shark Darts

Parts for shark darts or similar devices described in item 35.

The intent of this control is to capture shark darts when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

If we have no evidence to suggest the items are being imported for the construction of a shark dart, the goods should not be seized.

Item 37 Definition and Policy – Dart Projectors

BCS CLASSIFICATION: Trade Facilitation and Compliance – Goods Control

FILE NUMBER: C2008/04014-01

Dart projectors known as a 'darchery dartslingers', or similar devices that are designed to project a dart by means of an elasticised band.

Discussions during the development of the Uniform Prohibited Weapons List indicate that this control was designed to cover a specific product known as the 'Darchery Dartslinger' and any derivatives of that product.

Dart projectors are similar to a pistol crossbow, but do not incorporate a 'bow' into their design. Instead, they utilise a stretched band as their means of propulsion (similar to a spear gun).

Item 38 Definition and Policy

Parts for dart projectors or similar devices described in item 37.

The intent of this control is to capture dart projectors when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

If we have no evidence to suggest the items are being imported for the construction of a dart projector, the goods should not be seized.

Item 39 Definition and Policy - Maces

Maces or similar articles:

- a) capable of causing injury; and
- consisting of a club or staff fitted with a flanged or spiked head;
 other than a ceremonial mace made for use solely as a symbol of authority on ceremonial occasions.

The key to this definition is the inclusion of a 'flanged or spiked head'. If the item has neither of these, then it is not controlled.

The item does not cover ceremonial maces such as the Parliamentary mace used by the speakers of the House of Parliament. Any item could be used in a ceremony. However, for our purposes 'ceremonial mace' is limited to those items that outwardly appear designed specifically for the purpose of ceremony. Items that are of ornate construction or not suited to use as a weapon (ie unwieldy or fragile) or are constructed from or decorated with valuable materials would be considered a ceremonial mace. Consideration of the ceremonial occasion would also be taken into consideration when determining if the exception applied.

Item 40 Definition and Policy - Flails

Flails or similar articles consisting of a staff or handle that has fitted to one end, by any means, a freely swinging striking part armed with spikes or studded with any protruding matter.

Otherwise known as 'morningstars' the typical item is a ball and chain mace where the ball is spiked. The definition is quite broad the 'striking part' need not be spherical and can be any shape.

The 'or similar articles' covers items that have more than one striking part, such as 'cat o' nine tails'.

Item 41 Definition and Policy - Protective Articles

Body armour, protective jackets, protective vests, protective suits, anti-ballistic articles or any other similar articles:

- a) able to be worn, either independently, or as a part of something else, on the human body; and
- b) designed or adapted to protect the human body from the effects of a weapon (for example, a knife);

other than anti-ballistic articles used for eye or hearing protection

This item was amended in November 2005 to extend the definition to capture articles designed to protect against non-deforming fragments emitted from an explosive device and edged or spiked weapons such as knives.

The 2005 amendment also clarifies that the item does not have to be an article of 'apparel' in order to be controlled. Previous to the amendment there was confusion as to whether or not helmets can be considered body armour.

Most protective armour vests, jackets, suits and other articles marketed for use by military and law enforcement personnel provide some level of protection. Most meet a standard set by the US Department of Justice known as NIJ. NIJ common standards are II-A, II, III-A, III and IV. This standard of protection varies and can be increased by the insertion of plates. The vests, jackets and suits will normally have a label specifying the type of protection the item provides. However, we cannot assume that no label means the item provides no protection and is not controlled as this may result in a number of items being imported without labelling to circumvent Customs and Border Protection controls. Many vests and jackets designed for military and law enforcement purposes without plates still provide a level of protection and therefore are controlled.

A policy decision has been made that all vests, jackets, suits and other articles for use by military and law enforcement personnel, with or without plates, are controlled. Controlled items without plates include covert armour vests, jackets and suits, overt armour vests, jackets and suits, tactical vests, jackets and suits, military vests, NATO vests, side protection vests, over-vests and over-jackets, designed for use by military and law enforcement personnel.

Armour plates are controlled under the definition. Armour plates will often be serial numbered and may include information about the standard of protection they provide. However, the importation of the material (unformed) that is used to make armour plates is not controlled, as this material may also be used to make armour plating for vehicles and other items.

Articles that are designed to be worn to protect the body and head from the effects of chemical, biological and nuclear weapons, excluding safety equipment, are covered.

Riot helmets and historical items such as World War (WW) 1 and WW2 military helmets fit the definition. However, a policy decision was made in late 2006 to exclude WW1 and WW2 steel military helmets as they are not used to provide protection against modern day weapons. WW1 and WW2 military helmets made from Kevlar are still controlled.

Articles designed to be used to protect the body from the effects of a knife, blade or spike, used in a slashing or stabbing manner are covered under the revised definition. There are standards in relation to stab resistance and the resistance of the insert plates.

Goods such as ballistic blankets and shields are not covered as they are not meant to be worn.

Protective apparel that provides protection against physical damage caused by a person, as opposed to a weapon, such as boxing gloves, are not covered.

Chain mail is a medieval form of armour designed to protect against the effects of medieval weaponry. It is not used to protect against modern day weapons and therefore it is not controlled. Butcher's chain mail is not covered because it is industrial safety wear designed to protect against the tools of the butcher's trade.

Sporting apparel, such as kit worn in recognised sporting events such as fencing and historical re-enactment events, is not covered.

Other safety equipment, for example motorcycle helmets and apparel specifically designed to provide protection in the event of a road accident, is not covered.

Item 42 Definition and Policy - Extendable Batons

Extendable or telescopic batons, designed or adapted so that the length of the baton is able to be extended by:

- a) gravity; or
- b) centrifugal force; or
- c) pressure applied to a button, spring or device in or attached to the handle of the baton.

The item covers extendable batons as used by security forces, of any size, so long as the baton is of material and design that could be used to inflict injury.

Item 43 Definition and Policy – Parts for Extendable Batons

Parts for extendable or telescopic batons described in item 42.

The intent of this control is to capture extendable batons when they are being imported in pieces to circumvent import permit requirements.

If we have no evidence to suggest the items are being imported for the construction of a extendable baton, the goods should not be seized.

Item 44 Definition and Policy – Laser Pointers

Hand-held articles, commonly known as laser pointers, designed or adapted to emit a laser beam with an accessible emission level of greater than 1 mW.

mW = milliwatt

This item only covers hand-held laser pointers. Laser diodes, laser accessories and other products containing lasers (such as bar code scanners) are not controlled.

Laser sights for firearms are controlled.

If a hand-held laser pointer is imported and the emission level is not specified, testing devices are available in each Region. If you are unsure as to where the testing device is located in your Region, please email [Firearms & Weapons Policy]. The diagram below also provides information regarding the accessible emission levels by class.

2. Schedule 3 Weapons

Item 1 Definition and Policy – Anti-personnel Sprays and Chemicals

Anti-personnel sprays and chemicals for use in the manufacture of anti-personnel sprays; grenades or canisters, designed for use with anti-personnel sprays or anti-personnel chemicals.

The control covers:

- Chloroacetophenone, commonly known as CN;
- Orthochlorobenzalmalononitrile, commonly known as CS or Tear Gas;
- Dypenylaminechloroarsone, commonly known as DM or Adamsite;
- Oleoresin capsicum, commonly known as OC or capsicum spray/pepper spray;
- and any anti-personnel sprays and chemicals made using any substance of a corrosive, noxious, or irritant nature, or that is capable of causing injury.

This item includes grenades or canisters whether full or empty, that may be filled with an anti-personnel spray after importation.

The Item 1A control does not cover inert training aids, where those items are full of an inert substance designed to simulate the spraying pattern of an anti-personnel spray. Once a grenade/canister has been filled with an inert substance, it is not possible to use it and then re-fill it with an anti-personnel spray. It becomes useless after first use.

3. Classifying Weapons

When examining and classifying a weapon, it is important to consider the item as a whole before making a classification decision. This includes taking into consideration the following:

- the size of the item
- the intended use of the item
- whether or not it is concealable
- what is the item marketed as
- what Item numbers could the item fall to
- the blade sharpness.

After considering all these particulars and the information contained in these Instructions & Guidelines, classify the item as a non prohibited import not meeting any of the definition of any weapon in the Regulations or as meeting one or more of the definitions listed in the Regulations.

The Firearms and Weapons section of the Prohibited and Restricted Goods SharePoint site contains descriptions and photographs of goods and how they have been classified by the Firearms and Weapons section. The Prohibited and Restricted Goods SharePoint site is accessible at http://acapp001/prohibitedRestrictedGoods/default.aspx.

If a decision cannot be made, please contact the Firearms & Weapons section for classification advice via email at weaponspolicy@customs.gov.au.

4. Weapons Import Requirements

Schedule 3 and 13 weapons can only be imported with the written permission of the Minister for Home Affairs

Schedule 13 goods must comply with the relevant test before permission to import can be considered and Schedule 3 goods must comply with the specified conditions restrictions and requirements.

The Minister has authorised a number of senior executive service officers within Customs and Border Protection to grant approval for permission to import Schedule 13 weapons. Some officers that are authorised to grant approval are also able to refuse permission. The Minister has not delegated his power to grant permission for Schedule 3 weapons to Customs and Border Protection.

Goods can only be released at the border on the presentation of the original import permit – copies should not be accepted unless authorised by the Firearms & Weapons section.

Regulatory Changes to Import Controls on Weapons

Presented by the Firearms & Weapons section of Trade Policy & Regulation branch

Introduction

- The Firearms and Weapons section sits within the Trade Policy & Regulation branch of the Trade and Compliance division
- F&W is responsible for.....
 - Processing applications for weapons import permits
 - Assisting Customs and Border Protection officers with Firearms and weapons classification
 - Administering the Commonwealth Category H Handgun Certification Scheme
 - Developing policy documentation on safe handling of imported firearms
 - Representing Commonwealth at the FWPWG
 - Representing Customs and Border Protection in development of other policy reforms on firearms and weapons – e.g. ATT
- Firearms and Weapons section does not have a direct investigative or enforcement role

Customs (Prohibited Imports) Regulations 1956

- No weapon is totally "banned" from being imported into Australia
- Currently, Regulations 4 and 4F of the Regulations, provide that the import of specified weapons and firearms into Australia is prohibited without written permission.

Items controlled under Regulations 4 and 4F are listed in the following Schedules

- Schedule 6 Firearms:
 - » B709A / D Police Certification
 - » Permit issued by Commonwealth Attorney-General's Department
- Schedule 3 Crowd control:
 - » Importation Permit issued by the Minister for Home Affairs (through F&W, Customs & Border Protection)
 - » B709B Police Certification plus end user assurance
- Schedule 2 Weapons (current requirements):
 - All Schedule 2 weapons require Ministerial Import Permission (generally issued by an Authorised Officer of Customs & Border Protection)

Weapons Currently listed in Schedule 2

- The weapons currently prescribed in Schedule 2 of the Regulations are based on the 'Uniform Prohibited Weapons List' developed at the 37th meeting of Australasian Police Ministers Council (APMC) in 1999.
- Schedule 2 Weapons currently cover a range of items including:
 - warfare items
 - various bladed goods
 - hand to hand combat and martial arts weapons
 - incapacitation devices
 - concealable weapons, and
 - law enforcement equipment.

Current Permit Process for Schedule 2

- Prior to granting permission to import a weapon, Customs and Border Protection requires importers to obtain a B709B – Police Confirmation form from the relevant State/Territory Police Firearms & Weapons Registries
- The B709B form provides evidence to Customs and Border Protection that the importer is legally allowed to possess the weapon in their home jurisdiction – or alternatively that the weapon is not controlled in the jurisdiction
- If an importer applies for permission and provides a B709B, import permission is usually granted for those weapons if the goods have not already been imported into Australia*
 - * Permission is generally refused if import permission is not obtained prior to the weapon arriving in Australia, and the importer has previously been advised of import requirements.

"More Stringent" Weapons Controls

- On 29 July 2010, the Prime Minister and the Minister for Home Affairs, announced that a returned Labour Government would implement a "more stringent" approach to weapons importations.
- Changes to the Regulations were developed, which will come into effect in December 2011
- Also in July 2010 the issue was tabled at the 7th annual Ministerial Council for Police & Emergency Management – Police (MCPEMP)*

*[formerly the APMC and now the Standing Council for Police & Emergency Management (SCPEM)]

"More Stringent" Weapons Controls сонт.

- MCPEM-P noted the Commonwealth's intention to strengthen its approach to weapons importations and agreed to examine existing weapons legislation in all the State/Territory jurisdictions with a view to developing more nationally consistent controls.
- Why?
 - Different approaches to weapons control in the numerous State/Territory jurisdictions were resulting in large numbers of weapons legally entering Australia

Overview of the Regulatory Amendments

- Under this "more stringent" approach, weapons currently contained in Schedule 2 will be moved to the new Schedule 13
- The importation of Schedule 13 weapons will be controlled under the new Regulation 4H
- Non-weapon items (flags, cat & dog fur, etc) will remain in Schedule 2 and the importation of these items will be continue to be controlled under Regulation 4 (as will Schedule 3 items)
- Regulation 4 will be amended to remove the subparagraphs that refer to exemptions to the import restrictions on weapons prescribed under Regulations 3A, 3B and 3C (Defence, Police, Air Security Officers). These will be transferred to Regulation 4H

- An import model similar to that used for Schedule 6 firearms will be adopted for Schedule 13 weapons whereby permission to import will be dependent on the importer satisfying prescribed 'tests'
- The majority of Schedule 13 weapons, which have been identified as having limited legitimate domestic use, will require the importer to meet strict 'end user' requirements to gain import permission
- Lower risk, weapons will be able to be imported on production of a B709B – Police Certification Test

- 'Flick knives and similar devices' have been split into two separate Item numbers and the definitions better clarified
- The requirement for Items designed or adapted for warfare imported for 'collection' to be deactivated as well as inert is now specified in the Regulations.
- Warfare items that have been modified to such an extent that they are not able to be restored to their original use; and have been decorated for use as souvenirs or ornaments – 'Trench Art' – will no longer require an import permit

The Importation of Schedule 13 Weapons

- Those items with little identifiable domestic end use will only able to be imported if the importer meets the requirements of the prescribed tests:
 - Official Purposes Test [Commonwealth, State/Territory]
 - Specified Purposes Test [film production, testing, etc]
 - Dealer Test [licensed to deal in the goods]
 - Returned Goods Test [goods previously exported from Australia]
 - Public Interest Test and National Interest Test
 [exceptional circumstances] (Minister's permission only)
 - Specified Person Test [Items 41, 42, 43 & 44]
 - Collectors and non-government museum Test [Item 1]
 - Historical Items Test [Items 39, 40 & 41]

The Importation of Schedule 13 Weapons CONT.

- With the exception of the Public and National Interest Tests, these 'higher risk' goods will require a Customs and Border Protection issued Ministerial Import Permit
- The Minister for Home Affairs will issue Permission to Import under the Public and National Interest Tests
- For Schedule 13 weapons requiring Ministerial Import Permission, there will be no requirement for Police to issue a formal B709B to importer – checks will be conducted by F&W prior to granting an import permit

- For lower risk weapons, the importation will be subject to the Police Certification Test, i.e.
 B709B = import permission
- The Police Certification Test mirrors the current import process for Cat A and B firearms listed in Schedule 6

Clarifying the definition of a 'flick knife'

- The most contentious issue with the current Schedule 2 weapons has been the definition of a "flick knife or similar device"
- In the new Schedule 13 these goods will be split into two Items:
 - Item 14 Automatic knives; and
 - Item 16 Single handed opening knives
- The amendments do not change what is captured under the current definition
- The amendments serve to remove any ambiguity in the current definition and clarify the intention of the Regulations

Item 14 of Schedule 13 controls:

Automatic knives that have a blade folded or recessed into the handle which are designed or adapted to open automatically by pressure applied to any spring, device, stud or button in or attached to the handle or blade of the knife, including knives commonly known as flick knives, switchblades, assisted opening knives or flipper knives.

Item 16 of Schedule 13 controls:

 Single handed opening knives, being knives that have a blade folded or recessed into the handle which is capable of being opened by gravity, inertia or centrifugal force

In Summary.....

- All weapons previously listed in Schedule 2 will now be listed in the new Schedule 13
- The new Regulation 4H will control the importation of Schedule 13 goods
- Exemptions detailed under 3A, 3B and 3C will apply to Schedule 13 weapons as prescribed

In Summary.....сомт.

- Applications for permission to import weapons listed in the new Schedule 13 will now have to meet the conditions of a prescribed "test":
 - For the majority of weapons, the importer will have to satisfy the criteria of one of the prescribed legitimate end uses (Official Purposes Test, Specified User Test, etc).
 These weapons will continue to require Ministerial Import Permission
 - For a small number of 'lower risk' weapons, importation will only require presentation of a B709B form Police Certification Test

In Summary.....сомт.

- The importation of parts of certain weapons will now also be controlled under the Regulations
- The definition of 'flick knives and similar devices' has been amended to clarify the intention of the Regulations:
 - Automatic knives and single handed opening knives will now be controlled as separate Items (numbers 14 & 16)
- The requirement for permanent deactivation of Items of warfare imported for collection is now prescribed in the Regulations (previously this requirement was administered under policy)
- Items of warfare that have been modified to such an extent that they cannot be restored to their original state, and have been decorated for ornamental purposes (trench art) will be exempt from import control

Transitional Period

- All goods imported before the commencement of the Regulations will be processed under the current scheme
- Ministerial Permission to Import documents issued prior to the date of enactment for all Schedule 2 weapons will remain valid until their date of expiry. These may continue to be presented at the border for up to 6 months after the date of enactment
- Old style B709Bs cannot be accepted at the border for lower controlled weapons. Importers applying for permission to import who supply an old-style B709B will be advised to obtain a new B709B to present directly at the border.

Challenges

- Current lack of uniformity on weapons controls across jurisdictions
- Importers "port shopping" to import 'lower risk' weapons into jurisdictions with lowest weapons controls
- Once a weapon is imported, Customs and Border Protection cannot control domestic trade between States and Territories
- Importing weapons prior to obtaining permission (B709B)
- Recording data for items imported on B709Bs
- International trade obligations WTO, weapons manufactured domestically

DISTRICT COURT

APPELLATE JURISDICTION

JUDGE RACKEMANN

No 2152 of 2012

TREVOR ROY WEST Appellant

and

AUSTRALIAN CUSTOMS & BORDER Respondent

PROTECTION SERVICE

BRISBANE

..DATE 01/02/2013

HIS HONOUR: This is an appeal by someone who was the unsuccessful respondent to proceedings in the Magistrates

Court in which the Chief Executive Officer of Customs sought declarations that certain knives imported by Mr West are

"special forfeited goods" under Regulation 4 of the Customs

(Prohibited Imports) Regulations 1956 which prohibit the importation into Australia of goods specified in Schedule 2, unless the permission in writing of the Minister or authorised person to the importation has been granted.

Item 19 of Schedule 2 relates to flick knives or similar devices, and is the relevant item for the purposes of these proceedings. It was common ground that Mr West imported the knives and did not have permission to do so. The question is whether the knives fell within item 19 of Schedule 2.

That item describes goods as follows: "Flick knives or similar devices made by any material that have a blade, fold or recessed into the handle which opens automatically by; (a) gravity or centrifugal force; or (b) pressure applied to a button, spring or device in or attached to the handle of the device."

It is common ground that sub-paragraph (b) of the definition does not apply. It is also common ground that the knives in question have a blade which is folded or recessed into the handle. The only question both before the learned Magistrate and before this Court is whether the blade of the relevant knives opens automatically by centrifugal force.

HIS HONOUR: It is common ground that the blade would emerge from the knives if there was a sufficient force applied by a circular motion by, for example, someone's upper limb and wrist. The question, therefore, was whether this is appropriately described as the blade opening automatically by centrifugal force.

The learned Magistrate had the benefit of expert opinion evidence from Dr Thomas Stace. He holds a Bachelor of Science with First Class Honours in Physics and Mathematics from the University of Western Australia, a Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering with First Class Honours from the University of Western Australia, a PhD in Physics from the University of Cambridge. He has been employed as an academic physicist firstly at the University of Cambridge and currently at the University of Queensland where he is a Research Fellow and Senior Lecturer. His areas of research include quantum mechanics, solid mechanics and fluid mechanics.

His report explained what he understood the term "centrifugal force" to be in a technical sense, and expressed an opinion that the opening of the blade by the rotation of forearm and wrist away from the body was appropriately described as an opening by centrifugal force.

The learned Magistrate not only accepted his evidence but also had regard to the commonly understood meaning of the term as per the dictionary definition, which is, "an apparent force that acts outwards on a body moving about a centre." In short, consistently with his Honour's findings, the blade of each of these knives, when subjected to the type of movement discussed, is opened by centrifugal force, whether that term is regarded as being a term of ordinary meaning or as having the technical meaning attributed to it by Dr Stace.

The appellant focuses upon the description of centrifugal force as an "apparent force". He says that the expression "centrifugal force" is really "common sense physics," or to use another expression, "junk science". He points out that it is not an actual force; rather it is what he would describe as a misnomer used to describe circumstances in which other things are in fact in play.

In this case he says that under the conditions referred to, the blade actually opens by reason of inertia and centripetal force. I am not at all sure that he and Dr Stace are very far apart. In his evidence-in-chief and in his report, Dr Stace referred to centrifugal force as sometimes being referred to as a fictional force. He explained that it is so referred to because, "It's a force that occurs only in certain reference frames."

He gave the example of a lady holding a bag in a car going around a corner. To an observer on the side of the road what is causing the bag to move in an arc around the curve is centripetal force, but from the perspective of someone who is within the vehicle they perceive that there is a force, called centrifugal force, which, from their frame of reference, appears to be pushing the bag outwards. In this sense it is a 10 force that only appears in certain reference frames. used to describe a motion with respect to those particular reference frames, as opposed to centripetal force which is present in all reference frames.

In cross-examination it was suggested to Dr Stace that it was mostly, if not all, centripetal force of the human upper arm, and centripetal force exerted by the axis pivot pin at the end of the blade when it starts its emergence which is at play. He responded: "As I've already said already, centripetal force is - is always a relevant force to talk about in any inertial frame. It's a thing that causes the acceleration towards the centre of rotation... In a rotating reference frame one needs to introduce a concept called a centrifugal force that accounts for the perceived force..."

The appellant contended that as an apparent or perceived force, centrifugal force it is not something which is in fact acting upon the blade of the knife at all; that what is in fact operating on the blade of the knife are the other factors referred to by him. He was highly critical of those scientists who use the concept of centrifugal force.

It must be remembered that what we are ultimately dealing with, in the legal context, is the interpretation of the regulation, and, in that regard, a search for the meaning of the words that have been used. A difficulty with the appellant's position is that he would have the Court interpret 10 the section as if the reference to centrifugal force was something of a nonsense and certainly, as he conceded in his oral submissions, on his approach, the blade of a knife could never be said to open by centrifugal force. That is an unlikely construction.

It is unnecessary ultimately to determine whether the concept of centrifugal force is indeed valid or invalid from a purely scientific perspective. It seems to me to be tolerably clear, as a matter of interpretation, that the expression used in the regulation should be given the meaning which is attributed to it in the dictionary definition or indeed by Dr Stace, as the learned Magistrate accepted.

30

40

What the regulation is referring to is a knife or similar device that has a blade which opens by a process which is known as centrifugal force. That is apt to describe the knives in question. In my view the learned Magistrate was not only justified, but correct in concluding that the views expressed by Dr Stace support the natural meaning of the words and that the blades of the knives in question open in the way referred to in sub-paragraph (a) of item 19.

Late in the appeal, indeed after I had started dictating these reasons, the appellant raised a dispute about whether, even that was so, it could be said that the blades open "automatically", given the level of human intervention which is required in order to produce the movement which causes the blade to open.

The was pointed out that the ordinary meaning of the word "automatic" refers to, "Working by itself, without direct human intervention." The respondent on the other hand referred to the decisions in Re ACI Australia Limited v. Collector of Customs Victoria [1984] 7 ALD 234 at 242, and Re Repco Limited [1986] 10 ALD 241 at 247, for the proposition that an apparatus does not cease to be automatic simply because it requires some level of human intervention to bring its automatic functions into operation.

In the case of item 19 it seems to me that what is being referred to is a blade which opens automatically once a particular force is applied to it. In this case the only human action is that which leads to the force referred to in subparagraph (a). Once that force comes to bear, the blade opens of itself without further human intervention. In my view that comes within the expression "opens automatically" for the purposes of item 19 of the Schedule 2 to the Regulations.

Accordingly, the appeal is dismissed.

Dear Theo,

CEO of Customs v Wayne Jean

Report on hearing of Application under s205D(2)(e) of the Customs Act 1901 (Cth)

Coram: Magistrate Barko

Date 5 March 2012

Appearances

Applicant

D. Roche, counsel

(CEO of

(instructed by B. Anniwell, solicitor, Australian Government Solicitor)

Customs):

Respondent: P. Clough, solicitor,

The Court ordered:

- 1. The five knives which form exhibits 3A to 3E are declared as special forfeited goods.
- 2. The goods are condemned as forfeited to the Crown.
- 3. The Respondent is to pay the Applicant's professional costs in the amount of $2,500 plus GST, being a total of $2,750.

Comment:

- 1. This application was listed for hearing in the Downing Centre Local Court yesterday before Barko. We thank you for your attendance.
- 2. Dr Stace and Customs Officers Bouter, Ford and Trimble were all in attendance, at the request of the Respondent, for cross-examination. Only Dr Stace and Customs Officer Trimble were called for cross-examination.

Ex-tempore Judgment

- 4. His Honour characterised the real issue in this matter as whether or not the five knives satisfied the definition of 'flick knife' as prescribed by Item 19 of Schedule 2 of the Customs (Prohibited Imports) Regulations 1956 ('the Regulations') as it was at the time of importation.
- 5. His Honour noted the Macquarie Dictionary definition of a 'flick knife' as being a blade that springs out at the press of a button. His Honour also noted how broad the definition of 'flick knife' was in the Regulations to move from those knives whose blade once sprung out at the press of a button to newer devices.
- 6. His Honour observed that the movements used by Dr Stace when demonstrating the opening of the knives were forceful flicking movements with the wrist. Having also inspected the knives himself, his Honour held that, given the broad definition of 'flick knife', the knives fells within that definition.
- 7. His Honour agreed with the Respondent's submission that the knives would ultimately be used in trade. However, his Honour noted that that was not what the legislation was concerned with. Unless permission was granted to import the knives, his Honour noted that the matter was simply a question of whether or not the knives met the definition of 'flick knife' as prescribed in the Regulations.
- 8. His Honour accepted that the knives were tested first by Customs Officer Ford and found to satisfy the definition and did not accept that the knives were tampered with by Customs Officers. His Honour also accepted Dr Stace's evidence.
- 9. Having found that the knives met the definition of 'flick knives' his Honour held that all five (5) knives were special forfeited goods under the Customs Act 1901 ('the Act').
- 10. His Honour granted the Application and made the orders sought.

Costs

- 11. An application for costs was made pursuant to s263 of the Act in the amount of $20,000. As you are aware, awarding costs is a discretionary matter for the Court under s263 of the Act.
- 12. Mr Roche submitted that costs in these maters are awarded on the usual basis, that is, they follow the event. It was noted that Customs was put to the expense of a full hearing today, having to prepare a brief of evidence anticipating any possible argument made by the Respondent. It was noted that the Defendant was put on notice of his need to obtain a permit on several occasions and various correspondence was tender in support of the application putting the Respondent on notice that costs would be sought.
- 13. His Honour was prepare to award Customs costs. However, his Honour was most sympathetic to the Respondent and was not prepared to award costs in the quantum sought. He repeatedly noted that the Respondent was a man of excellent character who imported these knives for trade purposes. His Honour repeatedly noted that the case was treading a 'fine line' as even he had difficulty flicking open the knives in chambers and the knives were the sort of items commonly owned by members of the community. His Honour also noted the Respondent was entitled to defend the application.
- 14. Also noting that the Application was not an easy matter and the knives were a 'technical breach' the Regulations, his Honour was not prepared to award costs in the quantum sought. His Honour awarded costs in the amount of $2,500 + GST, namely $2,750.

Other Matters

- 15. The Respondent indicated that he would not be appealing the Magistrate's decision. However, the Court will retain the exhibits in the proceedings for 28 days. After that time, we will ensure that the Exhibits are returned to us and kept with our file.
- 16. We note that you took possession of the five flick knives at the end of the hearing, signed for those knives from the Court and took them with you to Customs House.

- 17. You have indicated that you would like a transcript of the hearing. We would be happy to obtain that transcript for you. We estimate the cost to be approximately $300. Please instruct should you wish for a copy of the transcript to be obtained.
- 18. As this marks the finalisation of this matter, we thank you for your assistance and instructions in this matter. Kind regards,

Australian Government Solicitor
