DECISION RECORD

Request Details

FOI Request FA13/10/00864

File Number ADF2013/34716

Scope of request

I'm seeking any correspondence between the federal government/ departments and the International Migration Organisation relating to the transfer of Indonesian minors, who had been held in Australian jail after being convicted of people smuggling charges, back to their families in Indonesia.

I'm seeking documents about the transfer arrangements including details about whether the department or IOM paid the travel and other expenses of the journeys and whether the minors were given access to counselling.

I'm also seeking documents relating to any incidents that may have taken place during the transfer process which were reported back to the department/ministers.

Documents in scope

1. Electronic records of emails and attachments – containing 24 folios

Authority to make decision

I am an officer authorised under section 23 of the FOI Act to make decisions in respect of requests to access documents or to amend or annotate departmental records.

Information considered

In reaching my decision, I have considered the following:

- The Freedom of Information Act 1982;
- Departmental files and/or documents (identified above);
- The Australian Information Commissioner's guidelines relating to access to documents held by government;
- The department's FOI handbook.

Reasons for decision

I have considered the files within the scope of your request and applied exemptions in part or in full to documents as detailed in the Schedule of Documents. You should read the schedule in conjunction with the exemptions below.

22 Deletion of exempt matter or irrelevant material

- (1) This section applies if:
- (a) an agency or Minister decides:
 - (i) to refuse to give access to an exempt document; or
 - (ii) that to give access to a document would disclose information that would reasonably be regarded as irrelevant to the request for access; and
 - (b) it is possible for the agency or Minister to prepare a copy (an edited copy) of the document, modified by deletions, ensuring that:
 - (i) access to the edited copy would be required to be given under section 11A (access to documents on request); and
 - (ii) the edited copy would not disclose any information that would reasonably be regarded as irrelevant to the request; and
 - (c) it is reasonably practicable for the agency or Minister to prepare the edited copy, having regard to:
 - (i) the nature and extent of the modification; and
 - (ii) the resources available to modify the document; and
 - (d) it is not apparent (from the request or from consultation with the applicant) that the applicant would decline access to the edited copy.

A number of documents contain information that is exempt under one of the section of the FOI Act. I am able to provide you an edited copy of that document under section 22(1)(b). You can identify these documents in the schedule of documents with the words Released in part or Exempt in full in the decision column.

Section 33 – Documents affecting national security, defence and international relations.

- (1) A document is an exempt document if disclosure of the document under this Act:
- (a) would or could reasonably expected to, cause damage to:
 - (i) the security of the Commonwealth;
 - (ii) the defence o the Commonwealth; or
 - (iii) the international relations of the Commonwealth.
 - (b) would divulge any information or matter communicated in confidence by or on behalf of a foreign government, an authority of a foreign government or an international organisation to the Government of the Commonwealth, to an authority of the Commonwealth, to a person receiving the communication on behalf of the Commonwealth or an authority of the Commonwealth.

I have decided that the documents identified in the Schedule as exempt under section 33(1)(b) are documents containing material which was provided in confidence to the Commonwealth by or on behalf of a foreign government or international organisation.

The nature of confidential communication is that it is only provided to the person receiving the information and is not intended to be shared without the approval of the provider of the information. Aside from the various document classification markings generally stating 'in confidence' I had conducted a formal consultation process with the international organisation to further investigate the manner in which these communications were held.

On the basis of the consultation I conducted I'm of the opinion that beyond any doubt the information was in fact communicated in confidence.

I am satisfied that the documents in question contain information that was provided in confidence.

47F Public interest conditional exemptions—personal privacy

- (1) A document is conditionally exempt if its disclosure under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information about any person (including a deceased person).*
- (2) In determining whether the disclosure of the document would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information, an agency or Minister must have regard to the following matters:*
 - (a) the extent to which the information is well known;*
 - (b) whether the person to whom the information relates is known to be (or to have been) associated with the matters dealt with in the document;*
 - (c) the availability of the information from publicly accessible sources;*
 - (d) any other matters that the agency or Minister considers relevant.*

Note: Access must generally be given to a conditionally exempt document unless it would be contrary to the public interest (see section 11A).

The information that is exempt in part, under section 47F of the FOI Act contains personal information. The nature of the information relates to communications held with the International Organization of Migration (IOM) concerning third party individuals. Whilst the individual concerned was aware their information would be collected and used by the department for the purposes of their immigration journey, the individual concerned has not given consent for their information to be released to a member of the public.

There is also no reasonable expectation that individuals the department are interacting with for the purposes of their immigration journey would desire their information being published within news articles. If this was the case, such an individual has the option of lodging their own FOI request or providing their consent to obtain such documents.

There are a number of IOM staff names and mobile telephone numbers embodied within the document. IOM staff names and mobile phone numbers are details which encompass numerous personal information traits not reasonable to release. Non-agency personnel names and mobile telephone numbers used for personal matters are an unreasonable disclosure of personal information in my opinion.

Having formed the view that the documents are of a kind to which section 47F does apply, I am required to consider whether disclosure of the documents would be unreasonable. I took the following information into consideration:

- The information is not your personal information. This weighs against the release being reasonable.
- Every person has the right to expect that their personal information will be securely maintained by the department. This weighs against the release being reasonable.
- The information isn't in the public forum. This weighs against the release being reasonable.

I believe it would be unreasonable to release these documents in their complete format.

Having formed the view that the documents are of a kind to which section 47F(1) does apply, I am required to consider whether disclosure of the documents would be contrary to the public interest.

I have considered:

Arguments in favour of the disclosure of the documents include:

- a person having a general right of access to any material held by the government;
- there is a general public interest in making information held by the Government accessible to the public;
- inform debate on a matter of public importance;

Arguments that against disclosure of the documents include:

- it is a core Government concern to maintain the integrity of the information it holds and in the maintaining of an individual's privacy
- prejudice the fair treatment of individuals

The information contained within the identified documents wholly relates to a person other than you. The department is obliged to take action to prevent the unreasonable disclosure of an individual's personal information and I have given this the greatest weight.

I consider that disclosure of this information would be contrary to the public interest and it is therefore exempt from disclosure under section 47F of the FOI Act.
