Executive summary

For 2018–19, Australia's annual Humanitarian Program was set at 18,750 places, with a minimum of 17,100 places for the offshore component of the program.

In 2018–19, 75,656 persons lodged an application for an offshore humanitarian visa. Around 58 per cent of all applications lodged in 2018–19 were from persons born in the Middle East; 26.2 per cent from Asia; and 14.9 per cent from Africa.

Around 62 per cent of all persons who lodged applications in 2018–19 were under 30 years of age. The gender balance has remained relatively unchanged over the past five program years with 49 per cent of applicants in 2018–19 being female.

The Humanitarian Program was fully delivered in 2018–19, with 18,762 visas granted, comprising:

- 17,112 offshore humanitarian visas
 - 9451 Refugee category visas
 - 7661 Special Humanitarian Program (SHP) visas
- 1650 permanent Protection visas

Of the 17,112 visas granted offshore, 55.2 per cent were granted under the Refugee category and 44.8 per cent were granted under the Special Humanitarian Program (SHP).

In 2018–19, 54.6 per cent of all offshore visas were granted to persons born in the Middle East, 23.1 per cent to persons born in Asia and 21.9 per cent to persons born in Africa.

The main groups resettled were:

- Syrians in Lebanon, Iraq, Jordan and Turkey
- Iraqis predominantly in Jordan, Turkey, Lebanon and Syria
- Myanmar in camps along the Thai–Myanmar border, Malaysia and India
- Afghans in Iran, Pakistan and Indonesia
- Bhutanese in Nepal
- Refugees from the Democratic Republic of the Congo and Ethiopia located in a number of countries in Africa.

In 2018–19, the target of 2565 places for Vulnerable Women and Children was exceeded, with 2947 visas granted.

The 2018–19 program year was the Community Support Programs (CSP) first full year of operation, and during that time 1086 applications were received. In 2018–19, 563 visas were granted.

Overview

Process for setting the Humanitarian Program

Each year, the Australian Government undertakes a comprehensive consultation process to formulate the composition of the Humanitarian Program. This includes:

- engaging with the Australian community, by publishing a discussion paper seeking the views of the Australian public;
- consultation with state and territory governments and Commonwealth agencies
- Minister's meeting with peak refugee and humanitarian organisations
- consideration of advice on global resettlement need and priorities from the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR).

In planning the program, the Government also considers Australia's capacity to facilitate the entry and settlement of humanitarian entrants to ensure they are successfully integrated into Australian society.

Program Components

The Humanitarian Program has two components:

- The offshore component of the program provides for the resettlement of people who were subject to persecution or discrimination that amounts to a gross violation of their human rights.
- The onshore component of the program provides for non-citizens in Australia (other than Illegal Maritime Arrivals (IMAs)) who are found to be a refugee and meet other visa criteria for permanent stay in Australia.

The focus of this report is the offshore component of the Humanitarian Program.

Refugee and Humanitarian (Class XB) visa processing

Australia's offshore Humanitarian Program includes the following categories:

Refugee category

For people who are subject to persecution in their home country and are in need of resettlement. They are usually referred by the UNHCR, but may also be self-referred. Applications are lodged at an Australian mission overseas.

Refugee visas include:

- Refugee (Subclass 200)
- In-country Special Humanitarian (Subclass 201)
- Emergency Rescue Visa (Subclass 203)
- Woman at Risk (Subclass 204)

Special Humanitarian Program

For people who are subject to substantial discrimination amounting to gross violation of human rights in their home country and have a link to Australia. The SHP stream also includes the Community Support Program (CSP).

Applications must be lodged at the Special Humanitarian Processing Centre (SHPC) in Sydney and be proposed by:

- an Australian citizen, permanent resident or eligible New Zealand citizen, or an Australian organisation – for SHP applications; or
- an Approved Proposing Organisation (APO) – for CSP applications.

Applications assessed as eligible for further processing are referred to an Australian mission overseas. There is only one SHP visa:

- Global Special Humanitarian (Subclass 202)

The stages of processing a visa application through to visa grant are:

Initial Assessment

- An initial assessment is undertaken on the basis of information provided in the application form, Government settlement priorities and visa criteria.
- The application will be refused or proceed to next stage of processing.

Interview

- Applicants who proceed to next stage are interviewed by an Australian visa processing officer, who assesses the case against requirements in the Migration Regulations.
- Interviews explore identity, family composition, humanitarian claims, character / national security and settlement information.

Public Interest Criteria Assessments

- Character and security checks are undertaken including checks relating to national security, criminality, war crimes and crimes against humanity. The Department works closely with other Australian agencies and international partners in conducting checks. Health checks are conducted to identify any health concerns including those that may need to be treated or monitored.

Visa grant

- Travel to Australia
- Humanitarian Settlement Program on arrival

Offshore Humanitarian Lodgements

Of the 75,656 offshore humanitarian applications lodged in 2018–19, 35.6 per cent were for the Refugee category and 64.4 per cent for the SHP.

Over the past ten years, the number of persons lodging applications has varied (see Figure 2) as explained below:

- Refugee lodgements increased in 2015–16 and 2016–17 following the Government’s announcement in September 2015 of the additional 12,000 places for Syrians and Iraqis, which has since been delivered.
- In 2013–14, the number of SHP applications rose, as a result of the SHP being increased to 4500 places from 500 places in 2012–13.
- In 2013–14, the increase in applications for the Refugee category was as a result of the one-off increase to 12,000 places in 2012–13.
- Between 2007–08 and 2012–13, the high number of IMAs resulted in an unprecedented demand for protection visa places onshore. This in turn reduced the number of places available for the Special Humanitarian Program.

Processing activities in 2017–18 and 2018–19 reverted to business as usual, resulting in finalisations similar to 2014–15.

The availability of an additional 12,000 places across 2015–16 and 2016–17 for Syrians and Iraqis displaced by conflict in their home countries resulted in a significant increase in the number of applications lodged. In order to ensure delivery of all places under the increased program, departmental posts and the SHPC efforts were focused on processing applications to visa grant and therefore fewer refusal decisions.

After 2015–16, when the program size returned to previous levels, processing activities also reverted to business as usual, including a rise in refusal rates compared with 2012–13 and 2015–16.

The reduction in refusal activity in 2015–16 was due to the focus on delivering the 2015–16 annual program, and the Government's additional 12,000-place commitment for Syrians and Iraqis.

Following the increase in the size of the SHP in 2013–14, overall refusal rates returned to previous levels following the processing of some of the oldest cases onhand.

Offshore Humanitarian Grants

The 17,112 visas granted under the offshore Humanitarian Program in 2018–19 comprised:

- 9451 Refugee category visas
- 7661 Special Humanitarian Program (SHP) visas.

3. The 2015–16 and 2016–17 statistics in this graph includes visas granted towards the annual offshore resettlement component of the Humanitarian Program, and the additional 12,000 places for people displaced by conflict in Syria and Iraq.

The increased Humanitarian Program in 2018–19 of 18,750 places comprised 17,100 places for the offshore component that were fully delivered.

The offshore program continued the Government's focus on resettling people from the three priority regions of Middle East, Asia and Africa, including Afghans, Iraqis, Syrians, Myanmar, Bhutanese, Congolese from DRC, Ethiopians and Eritreans.

The program also delivered on key Government commitments including resettlement from protracted refugee situations in line with the commitment made at the New York Leaders' Summit on Refugees in September 2016 as well as surpassing the target of 2565 places for vulnerable women and children.

The 2018–19 program continued to deliver on the Government's focus on resettling refugees in the Middle East region who are from persecuted minorities with least prospect of safe return, with an increase in the number of Yazidis granted visas. The significant increase in in-country (subclass 201) visas compared with previous years, reflects the increased grants to Yazidis in Iraq.

The increased Humanitarian Program in 2017-18 of 16,250 places comprised 14,825 places for the offshore component that were fully delivered.

The increased Refugee and SHP grants in 2015–16 and 2016–17, reflects delivery of the annual Humanitarian Program as well as the additional 12,000 places for Syrians and Iraqis.

Prior to the 2013–14 program year, the SHP was linked numerically to the onshore protection component of the Humanitarian Program. The high numbers of protection visa grants in that period resulted in lower numbers of SHP visa grants.

In 2013–14, as a result of changes introduced by the newly-elected Government, visas granted to IMAs were no longer counted towards the Humanitarian Program. This allowed the SHP to be restored as a result of which 4,500 visas were granted under the SHP.

The Refugee allocation returned to 6000 places in 2013–14, following the one off increase in 2012–13 to 20,000 places, in line with the recommendation of the Expert Panel on Asylum seekers. This increase in 2012–13 comprised 12,000 Refugee category places and 8,000 places for the SHP and for the onshore protection component.

3. The 2015–16 and 2016–17 statistics in this graph includes visas granted towards the annual offshore resettlement component of the Humanitarian Program, and the additional 12,000 places for people displaced by conflict in Syria and Iraq.

Grant rates in 2018–19 were slightly higher than 2017–18 resulting from the 2275 place increase to the offshore component of the program.

Grant rates in 2017–18 increased to 28.1 per cent for Refugee as a result of a reduction in refusal activity.

Despite an increased program, the grant rate (Refugee and SHP combined) decreased from 34.1 per cent in 2015–16 to 16.6 per cent in 2016–17 due to the overall number of refusals being higher in 2016–17.

The grant rate (Refugee and SHP combined) increased from 15.8 per cent in 2014–15 to 34.1 per cent in 2015–16 due to the increase in grants flowing from the additional places for Syrians and Iraqis, and a reduction in refusal activity.

Grants by country of birth

In 2018–19 the top five countries of birth for persons granted visas were Iraq, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Myanmar, Syria and Afghanistan. Around 52 per cent of the grants were to persons born in Iraq and Syria. Of the 78,727 visas granted over the last 5 program years, 55.5 per cent were granted to persons born in Syria or Iraq.

In 2018–19, 40.1 per cent of all persons granted visas were in the age group 0 to 17 years. Persons in this age group have been granted the majority of Humanitarian visas in each year from 2014–15 to 2018–19.

The proportion of males and females granted visas has remained steady at around 50 per cent.

In 2018–19, 62.0 per cent of all grants were to persons identifying as Christian, 18.0 per cent to persons identifying as Islam and 16.4 per cent to applicants self-identifying other religions (including Yazidis and Baha'i). In total, persons from 58 religious groups were granted visas in 2018–19. It is noted that applicants are not required to indicate their religion.

Vulnerable Women and Children

The 'Vulnerable Women and Children' (VWC) group is an extension of the Woman at Risk visa (subclass 204), which is specific to female applicants and their dependants who are subject to persecution or are otherwise of concern to UNHCR, are living outside their home country without the protection of a male relative and are in danger of victimisation, harassment or serious abuse because of their gender. The VWC group primarily comprises 'Women at Risk' but also includes vulnerable women and their families, without male protection, who might have been resettled under other visa subclasses such as 201 ('in-country') and 202 ('split family').

The Woman at Risk visa subclass was established in recognition of the priority given by UNHCR to the protection of refugee women in particularly vulnerable situations. Its introduction was intended to provide a pathway for the resettlement of vulnerable women refugees and their dependants living without the effective protection of male relatives.

Woman at Risk visa applicants may be unmarried, divorced or widowed and have no male relative who can provide effective protection, or separated from their partners or male relatives due to conflict or other circumstances.

Up until to 2012–13, 12 per cent of refugee places were allocated to Woman at Risk applicants.

In 2013–14 and 2014–15, a commitment was made to grant at least 1000 Woman at Risk visas under the offshore program.

In 2015–16, 1200 refugee places were allocated to Woman at Risk applicants.

In 2016–17 (and continuing into 2017–18) the proportion of the program for people facing particular vulnerabilities was expanded to include Vulnerable Women and Children from persecuted minority groups such as the Yazidis, who are living in their home country and otherwise may not be eligible under the subclass 204 criteria, in recognition of the vulnerabilities they faced.

Over 23,500 visas have been granted to vulnerable women and their dependants since the establishment of the Woman at Risk visa in 1989.

In 2017–18, the target for vulnerable women and children of 1550 places was exceeded with more than 2120 visas granted to this group.

In 2018–19, the Government continued its commitment to resettling highly vulnerable women by setting aside at least 2565 places for vulnerable women and their families. This was exceeded with more than 2940 visas granted.

Community Support Program

The Community Support Program (CSP) is intended to provide a sustainable model of private support for those in humanitarian need that complements existing resettlement pathways. The CSP provides a pathway for those in humanitarian need who are of working age, have adequate English language skills and can become financially self-sufficient within 12 months of arrival in Australia.

To ensure CSP entrants are well positioned to enter the workforce shortly after arrival in Australia, they must:

- be aged 18–50
- have adequate English language, and
- have an offer of employment or a pathway to achieve self-sufficiency within 12 months of arrival.

In addition, eligible applicants who are willing to live and work in a regional location receive priority.

Under the CSP, Approved Proposing Organisations (APOs) are responsible for managing the visa application lodgement process, securing employment, and overseeing the settlement of CSP entrants.

The 12 appointed APOs are:

- AMES Australia
- Assyrian Australian Association
- Australian Migrant Resource Centre
- Australian Refugee Association
- The Brotherhood of St Laurence
- Diversitat
- Eastern Christian Welfare Australia
- Illawarra Multicultural Services
- International Organization for Migration
- Multicultural Development Australia
- Settlement Services International
- Spectrum Migrant Resource Centre

The 2018–19 program year was the CSP's first full year of operation, and during that time 1087 applications were received. Legislation for the CSP commenced on 1 July 2017, with APOs entering into Deeds of Agreement with the Department in March 2018.

In 2018–19 up to 1000 places were allocated to the CSP and its predecessor, the Community Proposal Pilot (CPP), and 563 visas were granted. All places not utilised from the 1000-place CSP allocation were filled through the Special Humanitarian Program (SHP).

The top five countries of birth of people who applied through the CSP in 2018–19 were Iraq, Afghanistan, Eritrea, Syria and Ethiopia.

The top five countries of birth of people granted community supported visas (CSP and CPP) in 2018–19 were Iraq, Afghanistan, Eritrea, Syria and Ethiopia.

3. The 2015–16 and 2016–17 statistics in this table includes visas granted towards the annual offshore resettlement component of the Humanitarian Program, and the additional 12,000 places for people displaced by conflict in Syria and Iraq.

An application cannot be granted until health, character and security clearances requirements are satisfied. Other issues such as restricted access to clients due to instability in the countries in which they reside, the need for additional or specialist health and character checks and other variables, can delay visa grants.

Program year	The period beginning from 1 July to 30 June of the following year.
Refugee	Individuals recognized under the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees; its 1967 Protocol; the 1969 OAU Convention Governing the Specific Aspects of Refugee Problems in Africa; those recognized in accordance with the UNHCR Statute; individuals granted complementary forms of protection; or, those enjoying temporary protection. The refugee population also includes people in a refugee-like situation. A person who has been found to be a refugee as defined in the Refugee Convention. Article 1 of the 1951 Refugee Convention defines a 'refugee' as: 'a person who is outside their country of nationality and unable or unwilling to return because of a well-founded fear of persecution for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion. It obliges signatories not to expel or return refugees to a country where their life or freedom would be threatened on account of their race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion'
Refugee Convention	The United Nations 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees and the 1967 Protocol relating to the Status of Refugees.
Refusal	A decision that an applicant does not meet the legal criteria for the grant of a visa.
SHPC	Special Humanitarian Processing Centre. The SHPC in Sydney contributes to the delivery of the offshore Humanitarian Program, supporting the operations of Australia's missions overseas. The SHPC registers and acknowledge all new applications with an Australian proposer. Refugee applications referred by UNHCR are lodged directly with Australian missions overseas. SHPC makes a preliminary assessment against legislative requirements.
Split Family	Applications made by immediate family members of a person who holds or held a permanent Humanitarian Program visa are commonly referred to as 'split family' applications. For an applicant to be eligible for a visa under 'split family' provisions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the main applicant must be a member of the proposer's immediate family, and the proposer must have declared this relationship to the department before the grant of their visa, and the application must be made within five years of the grant of the proposer's visa. To propose an immediate family member under the 'split family' provisions of the SHP, the proposer must have been granted one of the following visas within the last five years: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> SHP visa (subclass 202) Protection visa (subclass 866), or Resolution of Status visa (subclass 851). * IMAs who arrived on or after 13 August 2012 are not eligible to propose. A member of the proposer's 'immediate family' may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> their spouse or de facto partner dependent children parents (if the proposer is under 18 years of age). A dependent child is the proposer's biological, adopted or step child who is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> not married, in a de facto relationship or engaged to be married; and under 18 years of age, or aged 18 years or over and wholly or substantially reliant on the main applicant for financial, psychological or physical support.

Term	Definition
Subclass	The four visa subclasses under the Refugee category are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Subclass 200 (Refugee)—for applicants who have fled persecution in their home country and are living outside their home country. Subclass 201 (In-country Special Humanitarian)—for applicants living in their home country who are subject to persecution. Subclass 203 (Emergency Rescue)—for applicants who are living in or outside their home country and who are in urgent need of protection because there is an immediate threat to their life and security. Subclass 204 (Woman at Risk)—for female applicants and their dependants who are subject to persecution or are people of concern to UNHCR, are living outside their home country without the protection of a male relative and are in danger of victimisation, harassment or serious abuse because of their gender. This subclass recognises the priority given by UNHCR to the protection of refugee women who are in particularly vulnerable situations. The only subclass under the SHP is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Subclass 202 (Special Humanitarian Program) —the applicant must be subject to substantial discrimination amounting to gross violation of their human rights in their home country, living outside their home country at the time of application and have links with Australia. If the application is successful, SHP proposers help the applicant organise and pay for their travel to Australia and assist with their accommodation and initial orientation in Australia. SHP proposers must be an Australian citizen, permanent resident or eligible New Zealand citizen over the age of 18, or an organisation operating in Australia.
The Department	The Department of Home Affairs.
The Offshore Program	Australia's Offshore Humanitarian program, comprising: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Refugee Program: the component which provides resettlement to Australia for people outside their home country subject to persecution in their home country Special Humanitarian Program: the component is for people who have been subject to substantial discrimination amounting to gross violation of their human rights in their home country, are living outside their home country at the time of application and have links with Australia. Substantial discrimination involves the deprivation of their basic human rights such as access to education and employment, freedom of speech and freedom to practice one's religion.
UNHCR	United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees. The UNHCR leads and coordinates international action to protect refugees and resolve refugee problems worldwide. It was established by United Nations General Assembly on 14 December 1950.
