Subject: Online Citizenship Ceremony Selection

Asked by: Kristina Keneally

Question:

How are successful applicants selected to participate in an online citizenship ceremony?

Answer:

The Department of Home Affairs is inviting applicants:

- who had already been scheduled to attend an in-person ceremony that was subsequently cancelled due to COVID-19 restrictions; and
- with the longest wait times since being approved for citizenship.

The Department is also giving priority consideration to applicants who seek an urgent citizenship ceremony due to exceptional circumstances (for example, where Australian citizenship is required to secure employment).
Thank you for your email and interest in online video citizenship ceremonies.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, all in-person citizenship ceremonies have been placed on hold until further notice.

The Department of Home Affairs has introduced online citizenship ceremonies for clients in Australia via secure video link. Ceremonies will be performed virtually with a presiding officer, and will continue to include integrity measures, such as identity requirements.

If you have genuine exceptional or compelling circumstances for an urgent online citizenship ceremony you must provide full details of your urgent request and supporting evidence. For example, this may include a letter of offer from an employer where you are required to have Australian citizenship. Urgent cases will be reviewed and assessed as required.

The following types of circumstances are not considered genuinely exceptional or compelling:
- Your ceremony was cancelled by your local council.
- Any circumstances relating to overseas travel which are not exceptional or compelling.

Consideration will be provided in the following circumstances:
- Defence Force personnel
- Clients who need to be an Australian Citizen to be employed for a job they have been offered

As you can appreciate, there is a high demand for online citizenship ceremonies and we ask that you be patient whilst we work through our on-hand caseload. Conferees will receive an invitation based on the date their application for Australian citizenship was approved. During these unprecedented times, wait times may exceed six months from the date of citizenship approval.

Please note during COVID-19, citizenship approval will not be cancelled if you do not attend a ceremony and make the pledge of commitment within the 12 months from your notice of approval.

Online citizenship ceremonies are currently unavailable for clients who are outside of Australia at this stage.

Thank you for your patience and understanding in these unprecedented times.
