The actual resettlement target remains at 250 places. s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Our tentative request for the referrals needs to deliver 250 resettlement places stands at 270 (an approximate number). It includes 30 (or more) places for vulnerable women and children (in addition to 240 general referrals) in an attempt to align the Sri Lanka resettlement to the government's focus on women and children. s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

In short:

Resettlement Target = 250

UNHCR referrals requested = 270 (240 general + 30 vulnerable women and children)

No-SAMS policy – s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Having said this, there is additional focus on vulnerable women and children in this year's program in general. The Minister has set the target of resettling as many as 60 per cent females (of all ages) this year overall in addition to a dedicated allocation of 20 percent for the Vulnerable Women and Children cohort. Hence, the prioritisation of families (to include women and girls) over single adult males. s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Where given a choice, a family will trump a single or equal number of singles.

Subject: 2019-20 humanitarian program allocations
Attachments: Definition- 2019-20 -For Posts.docx; 2019-20 HP Allocations - FINAL.xlsx

Dear All

The Minister has decided to keep the humanitarian program for 2019-20 at the current level, i.e., 18,750 -- 17,100 (91%) places are dedicated for the offshore component and 1,650 (9%) for the onshore component.

s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Program distribution

The Minister has distributed the offshore program into two broad elements.

1. Regional allocations - 12,490 places (73%)
 - a. s. 22(1)(a)(ii) (including 100 places for 'Oppressed Women, including from Saudi Arabia');
 - b. s. 22(1)(a)(ii) ;
 - c. s. 22(1)(a)(ii)
 - d. s. 22(1)(a)(ii) ;

Note: Within the Regional allocations there is a target of 50% for women.

2. Cohort specific allocations (not limited by geography) -- 4,610 places (27%)
 - a. Community Support Program – 1,000 places (6%) – there is a target of 50% for women;
 - b. Vulnerable women and children (VWC) – 3,500 places (20%);
 - c. LGBTQI Pilot - 100 places (1%);
 - d. UHMs with no ties to Australia (Pilot) – 10 places

Women in the program

An overarching policy caveat associated with the 2019-20 program is the specified proportion of 50 percent for women -- over and above 20 percent places dedicated for 'vulnerable women and children'. It requires that outside of the dedicated 3,500 places for the VWC component, at least 50 percent of places must be filled by women.

Released by Department of Home Affairs
under the Freedom of Information Act 1982

Women as a proportion of Offshore Component in 2019-20	Allocation
Of the 12,490 regional places, there is a target of 50% for women	6,245
Of the 1,000 Community Support Program places, there is a target of 50% for women	500
Vulnerable women and children	3,500
Total Women and their vulnerable children	10,245
Total Women as a proportion of Offshore Component	60%

Definition of 'vulnerable women and children'

Vulnerable women and children (VWC) extends the 'women-at-risk' definition to the subclasses beyond, but including, 204. Please refer to the attached glossary for further information.

Definition of 'oppressed women' from Saudi Arabia and the Middle East

This allocation is aimed at providing a solution to women escaping Saudi Arabia and other rigid patriarchal countries on the Arabian peninsula such as Yemen and the Gulf states, where local customs and the male-guardianship laws oppress and control women.

Allocation of cohort specific component

In working out how to allocate the 'cohort specific' component, we considered the characteristics of on-hand and historical caseloads across various regions. For example, we tend to have more women-at-risk and LGBTQI cases referred by UNHCR in Africa than anywhere else; almost all of Yazidi applications which satisfy the definition of VWC are processed by Amman and Ankara; many women and children without male protection come through Dubai's 'split family' Afghan cases.

While overall allocations made to Posts do not separately lists their share of 'cohort specific allocations', the expected notional allocations are shown as a separate column in the attached table. Here an assumption is made that by virtue of a post or a region delivering their overall allocations, due to the inherent composition of their caseload, with a level of considered planning, will lead to the delivery of their share of the 'cohort specific' component. Not every Post is required to deliver exactly 20 percent of their allocations as VWC. Some will end up have a greater share of VWC and others less.

As flagged last week, given the policy settings applying to Indonesia including the UNHCR registration date cut off, there are only around 300 Afghan clients left with the UNHCR who could potentially be referred to us. The potential for health and security complications, including difficulties obtaining penal clearances/waivers, is significant unless post is permitted to use other nationalities to fill the 100 spots. It may also be difficult to meet the gender balance requirements for 2019-20 without additional nationalities.

- Single UHMs aged 13/14
- Younger children if within a sibling group
- From any cultural background/ethnicity

Pilot being 10 children.

I would also like to add - the UHM Program is demand driven and further suitable UHMs can be catered for within the Program.

s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

The meeting this afternoon was mainly to discuss what parameters we might have around a cohort of IGOC minors who would potentially participate in the pilot. (The only brief we have is that Minister Coleman had asked that a UHM resettlement pilot of about 10 places be included in the 2019-20 Humanitarian Program and that it should involve children with no existing ties to Australia (IGOC minors). s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

The following is what was agreed this afternoon:

- Single UHMs aged 13/14
- Younger children if within a sibling group
- From any cultural background/ethnicity

The rationale for this age group(s) is mainly to provide them with better settlement outcomes as they would be in the UHM Program for about 4 years or more. If a child enters the program at age 13/14 we would be able to provide them with at least 2 years of intensive case management focused on settlement before they begin their transition to adulthood. Residential care is not the preferred approach for children aged 12 and under who do not arrive with siblings. Children participating in this pilot will be under the care of service providers directly contracted by the Department.

Dear s. 22(1)(a)(ii),

We still do not have formal go-ahead from the Minister for broader recommencement of Class XB processing, but in the meantime we now have authority from our Division head to recommence processing of a small number of cohorts.

Cohorts

Specifically, please recommence progressing and granting those grant-ready cases (both from Refugee and SHP streams) which align with the following cohorts in line with direction from our Division head:

- Women and children (those who meet last year's VWC definition from any cohort you were allocated last program year)
- Yazidis

Hi s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Released by Department of Home Affairs
under the Freedom of Information Act 1982

By way of quick update before tomorrow's telecon:

We met with s. 22(1)(a)(ii) of UNHCR on Tuesday afternoon. s. 22(1)(a) advised that as at 6 December UNHCR had only delivered around third of the promised referrals. And that realistically to be processed this financial year the remaining referrals needed to be received before the end March. s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

s. 22(1)(a)(ii) suggested a number of reasons for the slow outtake. These and the ensuing discussions are briefly summarized below:

1. Missions had been working to a four quarter year - with final numbers to come in the fourth quarter. s. 22(1)(a)(ii)
2. Africa quotas had changed on two occasions - initially they were 2500 - then increasing to over 4000 - before again being capped by Australia at 2500 s. 22(1)(a)(ii)
3. s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

We were advised that NZ would be doing a mission to Equator by the end of March with the view of identifying 100 candidates likely [Columbians]

4. s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

I'll be up and available for a chat from 4pm tomorrow your time if you want to flesh out some more detail

Dear s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

My apologies I could not respond to you sooner. Much of our team’s focus during the intervening period has been on undertaking a (early) review of the program delivery and outcomes for the Minister due to his keen interest in the progress of the humanitarian program. The Minister took the opportunity to unequivocally reaffirm his absolute commitment to these two policy priorities:

- Delivery of 20 percent resettlement places to vulnerable women and children (which matches your Women at Risk and UHM profiles).
- Delivery of the minimum 440 places, primarily for Venezuelans, from the Americas.

While the latter priority needs a separate discussion, the first priority fits in with the proposed revised submission plan of UNHCR. s. 47C(1)

The 440 places from South America are a combination of 320 places for Venezuelans and 120 places under PTA. You may recall that in our request for referrals (on 30 May 2019) for the 2019-20 program, we had requested referrals to cover 120 PTA places, 380 Venezuelan places and 100 additional places (non-nationality specific but from South America) for Vulnerable Women and Children.
