Minister's Comments

Key Issues

1. This submission seeks your approval of urgent amendments to the controlled operations framework under Part IAB of the Crimes Act 1914, and for these amendments to be progressed as part of the Telecommunications and Other Legislation Amendment Bill 2025 (TOLA Bill), which has been given T status for the Spring 2025 Parliamentary sittings (see variation bid and statement of reasons at Attachment A).
2. This submission also seeks your approval to vary the policy authority that the Assistant Minister to the Prime Minister provided (Attachment B refers) for the TOLA Bill, to reflect changes in implementation of network activity warrant and testing and development authorisation provisions.
3. If agreed, the Department recommends you sign the letter to the Prime Minister at Attachment C seeking policy authority for the Crimes Act amendments, seeking to vary policy authority for the TIA Act amendments, and seeking approval to vary the 2025 Spring legislation program to include Crimes Act amendments in the TOLA Bill, for proposed introduction in week 3 of Spring sittings (week commencing 25 August).

Hi s. 22(1)(a)(ii),

Thanks for your time on the phone earlier today.

As discussed, I am bringing the OCAC Hotline to your attention as I have not seen it so far in any ICT documentation ahead of the upcoming MoG to Home Affairs.

The Office of the Communications Access Coordinator (OCAC) provides a central point of coordination across law enforcement and security agencies, carrier and carriage service providers on the obligations under the Telecommunications (Interception and Access) Act 1979 (TIA Act). In order for staff to effectively service statutory functions under the TIA Act and support both industry and law enforcement, a hotline was established in around 2018. The hotline gives telecommunications carriers and law enforcement agencies direct contact with OCAC to support queries relating to compliance with legislative obligations, Interception Capability Plans and warrant related information. The hotline is referenced on a range of industry and law enforcement facing materials such as letters, fact sheets and is included in all emails from the CAC mailbox.

The hotline will need to be transferred to Home Affairs so OCAC can continue to support the telecommunications industry and support law enforcement. The hotline number is 1800 271 030.

Staff who have access are:

s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Additional complexities for your awareness

Due to legal complexities, the transfer of CAC functions from AGD to Home Affairs will likely need to be delayed beyond the 17 July 2025 transfer date. Legislation change is required to appropriately transfer the CAC functions from AGD to Home Affairs. We are currently consulting with HR to put in place secondment arrangements for staff. It is anticipated that these arrangements will second relevant staff back from Home Affairs to AGD to enable them to lawfully continue to perform the CAC's statutory functions until the proposed legislation passes.

We will let you know when our discussions regarding secondment arrangements have progressed.

Please let me know if you require any further information.

~~Legislative Secrecy~~

Parker, I've made a few tweaks. Can you or s. 22(1)(a)(ii) please add in a few sentences about what the CAC does and why it needs to transfer to HA. Thanks.

Hi s. 22(1)(a)(ii) and s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Good to catch up yesterday. As discussed, below is some background material on the recommended urgent amendments to s. 22(1)(a)(ii). I'd also take this opportunity to introduce you to Parker Reeve (cc'd), who is the Assistant Secretary for the High Tech Crime Branch, and has responsibility for this Bill, ESR and will be running the s. 22(1)(a)(ii) bills when responsibility is handed over to us on those in the next week or two.

The headline is that the Bill is limited to time-sensitive amendments that are necessary address technical issues that are:

- s. 22(1)(a)(ii)
- preventing agencies from exercising existing powers in the manner that the Parliament intended, and
- required to enable regulatory decisions to continue to be made, once AGD staff transfer to Home Affairs in accordance with the amendments to the Administrative Arrangements Order (AAO) on 13 May 2025.

s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Telecommunications (Interception and Access) Act 1979—Development and testing authorisations

The amendments would permit agencies to access stored communications under the development and testing authorisation framework in Part 2-4 of the TIA Act.

Part 2-4 allows the AG to authorise intelligence services and the ADF to intercept communications to develop and test technologies and interception capabilities, before they are deployed in 'live' environments, including overseas. At present, the framework does not

s. 37(2)(c)

s. 37(2)(c)

Communications Access Coordinator

The Department recommends amending the TIA Act to transfer the statutory role of the Communications Access Coordinator (CAC) from the Attorney-General's Department to the Department of Home Affairs to reflect the 13 May 2025 AAO.

The CAC is the regulator for the TIA Act, and is supported by a Section in our Division. The CAC manages the Australian telecommunications sector's regulatory obligations to support Commonwealth, state and territory law enforcement and security investigations, including interception capabilities and data retention obligations, as well as providing advice to the ACMA on potential security risks relating to carrier licence applications. The CAC function is central to the operation of the TIA Act, and should transfer to Home Affairs in conjunction with the administrative responsibility for the framework; the CAC is not related to the Attorney-General's role in approving ASIO's use of powers, or oversight of the electronic surveillance framework. However, legislative amendments will be required to the TIA Act to achieve this outcome, as the relevant provisions establishing the CAC tie the role to AGD—see s 6R (Communications Access Coordinator), the definition of 'Attorney-General's Department' in s 5 and s 5\(3A\), and s 6V.

Hi both,

Thanks for your assistance with this issue.

under the TIA Act, for your review and comment, given it will be a cross-department authorisation. I've also attached the instrument that Secretary Pezzullo signed following the 2018 MoG for reference (noting that these functions all transferred on a single day, following legislative amendments, which I believe avoided the need for a cross-departmental authorisation). Once you're both comfortable, I'll finalise clearance through Andrew here, and provide back to the PDMS team at Home Affairs to progress to Secretary Foster.

Authorisations under the TIA and SD Act

Timing

2 June 2025, to enable statutory reporting functions relating to law enforcement warrants under the Telecommunications (Interception and Access) Act 1979 (TIA Act) to recommence.

Purpose

To:

1. Obtain your agreement to make an authorisation instrument (Attachment A), enabling Machinery of Government-affected staff at the Attorney-General's Department to resume performing statutory functions under the TIA Act until those staff formally transfer to the Department of Home Affairs.

Background

2. Part 2-7 of the TIA Act requires the Secretary of the Department to maintain, and to submit to the Minister every three months, a:
 - a. General Register of Warrants—containing details of each interception warrant issued to Commonwealth, state and territory police forces, crime commissions and anti-corruption bodies, and

Released by Department of Home Affairs
under the Freedom of Information Act 1982

- b. Special Register of Warrants—containing details of each such warrant if, at the end of the three-month period after the expiry of the warrant, no criminal proceedings had been or were likely to be instituted against a person as a result of information obtained under the warrant.
3. The TIA Act requires each agency to provide the Secretary with copies of warrants for inclusion in the Registers, and makes it an offence for any person to communicate, make use of, or record information relating to such warrants except as expressly permitted by the TIA Act.
4. The Administrative Arrangements Order of 13 May 2025 transferred responsibility for the TIA Act to the Minister for Home Affairs, and transferred the above-mentioned functions to you as Secretary of the Department. However, the staff administering the Registers, and the secure database that contains the Registers, remain at the Attorney-General's Department pending the finalisation of the Machinery of Government changes.
