The department is progressing ^{s. 22(1)} outstanding recommendations through comprehensive electronic surveillance reform s. 22(1)(a)(ii)

Electronic surveillance reforms

The department has led extensive work to support the development of electronic surveillance reform. The reform is a significant and complex undertaking as it aims to replace decades of layered, piecemeal legislation spanning more than 1,200 pages, with a unified framework. This work has involved detailed consultation with Commonwealth law enforcement and National Intelligence Community agencies, oversight bodies, and policy departments on all aspects of the reforms.
