

From: Ashley Glenday
To: Assistance Bill Consultation; [REDACTED]
Subject: The Assistance and Access Bill 2018
Date: Friday, 7 September 2018 2:29:40 PM

Ms Susan Templeman MP,

Weakening encryption by insisting on backdoors would be a mistake. Despite what so called experts who aren't actually in the field say, it's impossible to allow just the good guys access to the data.

All of our data will be at risk of exposure to foreign powers who will make the same insistence that backdoors be installed, so they'll be given the same "keys" that the Australian government is asking for, and then they'll have as much access to our data as you do.

Regards,

Ashley Glenday
Your Technician

Phone: [REDACTED]
Local Ph: [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Whether you're happy or unhappy, please consider leaving a review for us on Google here: <https://goo.gl/GLMgyY> or Facebook here: <https://goo.gl/uZM4Nc>.

If you're unhappy, please contact us so we can improve and serve you better next time.