To whom it may concern,

I've had a look at the proposed bill and I would like to input my feedback. I would like to input that this is a bad idea, as it is still a breach of privacy for honest Australians as well as criminals. I understand why it was thought of, but I don't believe this is the option meant for us, and I believe this should be scrapped and thought through properly. Another option is needed. Please do not pass this bill through parliament.

Kind Regards,
Brian F
