Hi,

I would like to register my alarm at the proposed Assistance and Access Bill of 2018.

This bill is a frightening increase in unaccountable government power and the Australian government has not demonstrated the maturity to wield such power.

The threat used to push this awful legislation is over-hyped and only serves to demonstrate the intelligence services contempt for the Australian people, and their incompetence at being unable to adapt to a changing world without removing the very freedoms that make Australia a place worth defending.

This legislation must not pass.
