I would like to express, as a concerned citizen of the Commonwealth of Australia and a registered voter, that the details of this bill if passed and the powers it would grant government agencies and law enforcement, would be, in my view, a significant infringement of my rights as a citizen and a human being to privacy and security. While I accept that there may be reasons given to justify this act, I cannot in good conscience condone it, and will not support any government which does.

Thank you

Kieran James Morris of [REDACTED]
