Hello,

I am writing to voice my opposition to the Assistance and Access Bill.

Australia already has a very bad record on protecting privacy rights and this is just another step in the wrong way.

Using the phrase "fighting terrorism" is not a legitimate argument or reason to infringe on the rights of everybody. Frankly I am sick of it at this point.

Australia is turning more and more into a police state and bills like this (and the constant push to create transparent citizens) prove it.
