DEPARTMENT OF IMMIGRATION AND BORDER PROTECTION

Section 1: Entity overview and resources

1.1 STRATEGIC DIRECTION STATEMENT

On 1 July 2015 the Department of Immigration and Border Protection and the Australian Customs and Border Protection Service formally become a single organisation. The integration of immigration and customs functions positions the new Department to contribute to the achievement of three principal Government outcomes: strong national security; a strong economy; and a prosperous and cohesive society.

The new Department's role is critical to preserving Australia's sovereignty and its broad remit and touches every part of Australian life—industry and commerce, national security, protection of the community, enforcement of the law, security of Australia's offshore maritime resources and environment and collection of revenue.

The Department's strategic objectives are: facilitation and enforcement of trade and customs; facilitation and enforcement of travel and immigration; delivery of migration and citizenship programmes; delivery of humanitarian and refugee programmes; offshore maritime security; and revenue collection.

Within the Department, the Australian Border Force (ABF) will be established to provide a single frontline operational border entity with statutory responsibilities to enforce customs and immigration law and to deliver specialised border capabilities including within the maritime domain. It deploys an operational response in concert with partner agencies to deliver border protection and enforcement activities to facilitate legitimate trade and travel, intervening only against those who attempt to breach our borders or circumvent our controls.

The Australian border is a national asset, holding national security as well as economic and strategic value. Effective border security allows for the seamless movement of people and goods in and out of Australia and enhances legitimate trade, travel and migration. The operational environment is increasingly complex with significant risk associated with many aspects of our business. Close cooperation with other international border, national security, law enforcement and intelligence agencies is a high priority to allow us to manage this national asset and to ensure a comprehensive approach to border security.

DIBP Budget Statements

To perform our role and to meet the expectations of Government and the Australian community we work with our international and domestic partner agencies to identify and respond to threats and opportunities using an intelligence-led, risk based approach. To do this we are developing our capacity to share, identify, access, integrate and use both information and intelligence more effectively to ensure the nation's security and sovereignty.

To support our role of maintaining the integrity and security of our borders the ABF will undertake daily border control operations including verification of identity and intent, as well as enforcement, compliance and investigation activities including immigration compliance, detention and removals operational tasks.

In 2015-16 the Department will achieve its strategic objectives through:

- ensuring the continued integrity and security of our border arrangements focusing on strengthening relationships with key countries of origin and transit to maximise cooperation across the region on immigration and border protection matters;
- maintaining the integrity of existing regional processing arrangements for Illegal Maritime Arrivals (IMAs) and associated resettlement commitments and ensuring the successful implementation of new regional resettlement arrangements;
- further strengthening public confidence in the integrity of our borders by maintaining the success of Operation Sovereign Borders, ensuring that the security of our maritime borders is sustained, and by resolving the status of the IMA caseload;
- continuing to review and improve our practices around the protection of children, vulnerable people and the management of people in our care and to implement measures that provide a safe and secure immigration detention environment;
- completing a holistic review of the onshore detention and offshore processing and settlement policy assumptions and operational framework, to support the capability to manage the IMA and non-IMA cohorts in a strategic response to changes in the Department's operating environment;
- contributing to whole-of-government law enforcement and national security efforts by enhancing our investigation and enforcement capability to target and resolve national security and transnational crime threats where there is a nexus with the visa programme or the movement or potential movement of travellers or goods into or out of Australia;
- driving the implementation of counter-terrorism measures to manage the security implications of the increasing number of Australian foreign fighters heading to and returning from conflicts overseas;

- working closely with other law enforcement agencies to address the threat posed to the community by illicit trafficking of handguns and narcotics, especially the drug ice;
- administering the collection of customs duties efficiently to maximise revenue to Government and minimise the regulatory burden of customs procedures on Australian businesses in line with the deregulation agenda, focusing specifically on the continued implementation of the Trusted Trader Programme;
- developing additional measures to strengthen visa programme integrity and efficiency to attract quality applicants that meet the needs of the Australian community and economy; and
- building on the integration of our new organisation to ensure appropriate capabilities are established to tackle the future challenges facing Australia's border.

Prepared on a Government Finance Statistics (fiscal) basis.

Note: 2014-15 is still under the old outcome/programme structure, and the figures are for comparison purposes

The Government agreed to reclassify this item from lapsing to an ongoing measure.
 The Government will achieve savings of $270.1 million over four years from the consolidation of the Australian Customs and Border Protection Service and the Department of Immigration and Border Protection into a single department. $70million of this will be reinvested for reform activities.

1.4 PROGRAMME TRANSITION

As outlined in the portfolio overview, the purpose of the new Department is to 'protect Australia's border and manage the movement of people and goods across it'. The responsibilities of the new Department will extend from traditional immigration functions to the entirety of the border protection spectrum, including trade, travel, migration and maritime activity and all-encompassing people and goods.

There are three principle outcomes that the new Department will deliver against:

Outcome 1 – Protect Australia's sovereignty, security and safety by managing its border, including through managing the stay and departure of all non-citizens.

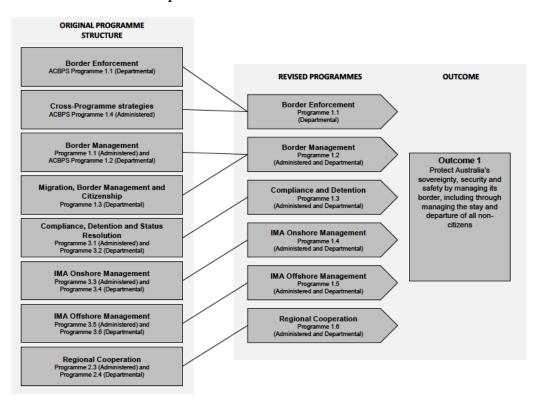

Outcome 2 – Support a prosperous and inclusive society, and advance Australia's economic interests through the effective management of the visa and citizenship programmes and provision of refugee and humanitarian assistance.

Outcome 3 – Advance Australia's economic interests through the facilitation of the trade of goods to and from Australia and the collection of border revenue.

The Department has the responsibility to manage the stay and departure of all non-citizens, to confer Australian citizenship and to facilitate the Humanitarian Programme. It also has the responsibilities to increase Australian economic competitiveness through facilitation and intervention at the border and collection of border revenue.

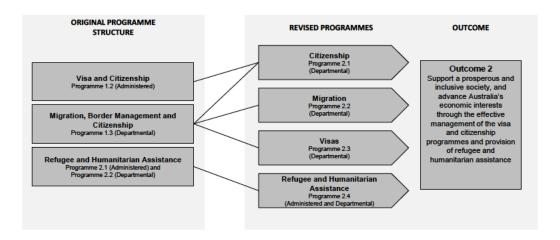

To ensure that there is alignment between the new Department's role and purpose and the outcomes that it delivers for government, the outcome and programme structure has been restructured.
