Subject: Significant cost threshold for health migration

To whom it may concern,
I would like to add my support in line with Welcoming Disability's position statement.

Having seen the vast costs allowed for humanitarian entrants with disabilities, I do not feel that our current legislation reflects the family contribution to Australia, especially in the area of skilled migrants and amounts to unfair discrimination.

I believe the threshold should be adjusted and there be some individual case flexibility inbuilt to ensure we are not creating an unnecessary drain of skilled workers. The current situation seems to be an attitude of cutting the nose off to spite the face.

I would like to see a more careful, fully open examination of this legislation.

Thank you for your time.
