Executive summary

For 2023–24, Australia's annual Humanitarian Program was set at 20,000 places.

A total of 20,000 resettlement visas were granted, comprising:

- 16,750 offshore humanitarian visas
 - 9,762 Refugee category visas
 - 5,475 Global Special Humanitarian (SHP) visas
 - 1,513 Community Support Program (CSP) visas
- 3,250 permanent Protection visas

Of the 16,750 visas granted offshore, 58.3 per cent were granted under the Refugee category, 32.7 per cent were granted under the SHP and 9.0 per cent were granted under the CSP.

In 2023–24, 53.1 per cent of all offshore visas were granted to persons originating from Asia, 28.4 per cent to persons from the Middle East, 14.6 per cent to persons from Africa, and 3.9 per cent to persons from the Americas.

Afghan citizens were prioritised in the Humanitarian Program, with 6,961 visas (41.6 per cent of all offshore visas) granted to Afghan nationals in 2023–24.

The main groups resettled were:

- Afghans located in Pakistan, Iran and Türkiye;
- Iraqis predominantly located in Jordan, Lebanon and Türkiye;
- Myanmar citizens located in camps along the Thai–Myanmar border, Malaysia and India;
- Citizens of the Democratic Republic of the Congo located in Malawi, Kenya and Burundi;
and
- Syrians located in Iraq, Lebanon and Türkiye.

In 2023–24, the resettlement of highly vulnerable women and their families continued to be a priority, with 2,159 visas granted to vulnerable women and their families.

Of the 1,513 visas granted under the CSP, which falls under the SHP, 55 per cent were granted to Afghan nationals.

In 2023–24, 84,913 applicants lodged applications. Of these, 67 per cent were from persons originating from Asia (including Afghanistan), 20.1 per cent from the Middle East, 10.9 per cent from Africa, and less than 1 per cent from the Americas.

Around 64 per cent of all persons who lodged applications in 2023–24 were under 30 years of age.

The gender balance has remained relatively unchanged over the past five program years with 49.9 per cent of applicants in 2023–24 being female.

Overview

Process for setting the Humanitarian Program

Each year, the Australian Government undertakes a comprehensive consultation process to formulate the composition of the Humanitarian Program. This includes:

- Engaging with the Australian community, by publishing a discussion paper seeking the views of the Australian public;
- Consulting with state and territory governments and Commonwealth agencies;
- Holding a meeting between the Minister for Home Affairs and peak refugee and humanitarian interest groups and community organisations; and
- Considering advice on global resettlement need and priorities from the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR).

In planning the program, the Government also considers Australia's capacity to facilitate the entry and settlement of humanitarian entrants to ensure they are successfully integrated into Australian society.

Program components

The Humanitarian Program has two components:

- The offshore component of the program provides for the resettlement of people who were subject to persecution or discrimination that amounts to a gross violation of their human rights.
- The onshore component provides protection for people who have arrived in Australia lawfully and who are found to be a refugee and meet other visa criteria for permanent stay in Australia.

The focus of this report is the offshore component of the Humanitarian Program.

Refugee and Humanitarian (Class XB) visa processing

Australia's Offshore Humanitarian Program includes the following categories:

Refugee category

For people who are subject to persecution in their home country and are in need of resettlement. The majority of applicants are referred by UNHCR, but people may also self-refer. Applications are lodged at Australian missions overseas.

Refugee visas include:

- Refugee (Subclass 200)
- In-country Special Humanitarian (Subclass 201)
- Emergency Rescue Visa (Subclass 203)
- Woman at Risk (Subclass 204)

In accordance with Australian government policy, those who are outside their home country and are either, referred by UNHCR or who meet Afghan Locally Engaged Employee (LEE) requirements are prioritised within the program.

Special Humanitarian Program (SHP)

For people who are subject to substantial discrimination amounting to gross violation of human rights in their home country and have a link to Australia. The SHP also includes the CSP.

Applications must be lodged at the Special Humanitarian Processing Centre (SHPC) in Sydney and be proposed by an Australian citizen, permanent resident or eligible New Zealand citizen, or an Australian organisation. CSP applications must be proposed by an approved proposing organisation (APO).

Applications assessed as eligible for further processing are referred to an Australian processing centre which may be in Australia or overseas.

There is only one SHP visa subclass:

- Global Special Humanitarian (Subclass 202)

The stages of processing a visa application through to visa grant are:

Initial Assessment

- An initial assessment is undertaken on the basis of information provided in the application form, Government resettlement priorities and visa criteria.
 - The application will be finalised or proceed to next stage of processing.

Further Assessment

- Applicants who proceed to the next stage are then further assessed by an Australian visa processing officer, who considers the application against requirements in the Migration Regulations, and may include an interview.
 - The assessment explores identity, family composition, humanitarian claims, character / national security and settlement information.

Public Interest Criteria Assessments

- Character and security checks are undertaken. These include checks relating to national security, criminality, war crimes and crimes against humanity. The Department works closely with other Australian agencies and international partners in conducting checks.
 - Health checks are also conducted to identify any health concerns, including those that may need to be treated or monitored.

Visa grant

- Travel to Australia
- Humanitarian Settlement Program on arrival

Offshore Humanitarian Lodgements

Of the 84,913 applicants that lodged applications in 2023–24, 46.4 per cent were for the Refugee category, 44.5 per cent for the SHP and 9.1 per cent for the CSP.

Notes:

1. Refugee includes subclass 200 (Refugee), 201 (In-Country Special Humanitarian), 203 (Emergency Rescue) and 204 (Woman at Risk). Global Special Humanitarian includes subclass 202 (Special Humanitarian) and subclass 202 (Community Support Program).
2. Data was extracted from departmental systems on 3 July 2024.

Over the past five years, the number of persons lodging applications has varied (see Figure 1):

- There was a decrease in lodgements for Refugee category visas in the 2023-24 program year compared to the 2022-23 program year.
- There was an increase in SHP lodgements, with the highest number of CSP lodgments since the CSP's inception in 2018.
- The 386 per cent increase in lodgements in 2021–22, as compared to 2020–21, was due to the Afghan crisis.
- The 44 per cent decrease in lodgements in 2020–21 compared to 2019–20 was likely due to the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Over the past five years, the number of persons granted has varied (see Figure 8):

- The 2023-24 Program was delivered in full, with a total of 16,750 visas granted in the Offshore Program. This was the highest number of visas granted under the Offshore Program in over a decade. This year also marked the first time that the CSP allocation within the Offshore Program was delivered in full, and the highest number of CSP grants since its inception in 2018.
- Reflecting Australia's sustained commitment following two decades of operations in Afghanistan and in response to the Afghan crisis, the 2023–24 program also continued to see Australia deliver its commitment to support and resettle people from Afghanistan with 6,961 humanitarian visas granted to Afghans, with a focus on certified former LEE and their immediate family members as well as women and girls, ethnic minorities, LGBTQI+ and other identified minority groups.

Vulnerable Women and Children

The Woman at Risk visa subclass was established in recognition of the priority given by UNHCR to the protection of refugee women in particularly vulnerable situations. Its introduction was intended to provide a pathway for the resettlement of vulnerable women refugees and their dependants living without the effective protection of male relatives.

Woman at Risk visa applicants may be unmarried, divorced or widowed and have no male relative who can provide effective protection, or separated from their partners or male relatives due to conflict or other circumstances.

Over 32,200 visas have been granted to vulnerable women and their dependants since the establishment of the Woman at Risk visa in 1989.

In 2023–24, 2,159 visas were granted to vulnerable women and children. Reflecting the priority placed on Afghan refugees in the overall program, 40 per cent of visas granted to vulnerable women and children were to Afghan citizens.

Community Support Program (CSP)

The CSP is intended to provide a sustainable model for private sponsorship for humanitarian entrants that complements existing resettlement pathways.

To ensure CSP entrants are well positioned to enter the workforce shortly after arrival in Australia, they must:

- be aged 18–50
- have adequate English language, and
- have an offer of employment or a pathway to achieve self-sufficiency within 12 months of arrival.

Under the CSP, Approved Proposing Organisations (APOs) are responsible for managing the visa application lodgement process, securing employment, and overseeing the settlement of CSP entrants.

The 12 appointed APOs are:

- AMES Australia
- Assyrian Australian Association
- Australian Migrant Resource Centre
- Australian Refugee Association
- The Brotherhood of St Laurence (before 1 February 2022)
- Cultura (formerly known as Diversitat)
- Eastern Christian Welfare Australia
- Illawarra Multicultural Services
- International Organization for Migration
- Multicultural Australia (formerly known as Multicultural Development Australia)
- Settlement Services International
- Spectrum Migrant Resource Centre

The 2018–19 program year was the CSP's first full year of operation. Legislation for the CSP commenced on 1 July 2017, with APOs entering into Deeds of Agreement with the Department in March 2018. 1,500 places were allocated to the CSP in 2023–24, and this allocation was delivered in full with 1, 513 visas granted under the CSP.

The top five citizenships of people who applied and were granted visas through the CSP in 2023–24 were Afghanistan, Iraq, Syria, Eritrea, and Myanmar.

Afghanistan

Australia has been resettling Afghans through the Humanitarian Program since the late 1990's. Grants to Afghan nationals formed over 41 per cent of total visa grants in the 2023-24 Humanitarian Program.

Following the fall of Kabul on 15 August 2021, the Australian Government conducted a military air evacuation operation.

- Between 18 and 26 August 2021, over 4,100 people were evacuated on 32 flights from Kabul.

Since the initial evacuation phase, Australia has continued to facilitate the movement of Afghan nationals to Australia, from Pakistan and other countries. In total, over 7,400 subclass 449 visas were granted to Afghan evacuees, with almost 6,200 having arrived in Australia as at 30 June 2023.

As at 30 June 2024, over 5,600 Class XB visas had been granted to Afghan citizens in Australia who had previously held a Subclass 449 visa.

The Afghan LEE Program offers resettlement to eligible LEE at risk of harm as a result of their employment by the Australian Defence Force, the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, the Australian Agency for International Development or the Australian Federal Police in Afghanistan. Eligibility extends to immediate family members of the LEE.

- Since the announcement of this program, more than 2,500 visas have been granted to Afghan LEE and their family members, with almost 250 granted in 2023–24.

There were 10,000 places allocated to Afghan nationals within the offshore Humanitarian Program between 2021–22 and 2024–25. Further, an additional 16,500 places for Afghan nationals have been allocated and will be delivered over four years (4,125 places per year between 2023–24 and 2025–26). This brings the total number of places available to Afghan nationals to 31,500, which comprise 26,500 places under the Humanitarian Program and 5,000 under the Family stream of the Migration Program.

The Australian Government has established policy to guide decisions on which applications ought generally to be given priority. For Afghans, this policy includes people who are outside Afghanistan who are:

- certified former LEE and their immediate family members (spouses and children under 18)
- immediate family members (spouse, children under 18) of holders of Refugee and Humanitarian (Class XB) visas
- refugees who have been referred by UNHCR to Australia for resettlement
- members of identified minority groups (such as women and girls, ethnic minorities and LGBTQI+) who are referred by UNHCR or proposed by a close family member in Australia.

Class XB Subclasses	There are five permanent visas under the offshore component of the Humanitarian Program. The four visa subclasses under the Refugee category are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Subclass 200 (Refugee)—for applicants who have fled persecution in their home country and are living outside their home country. Most are referred by UNHCR. • Subclass 201 (In-country Special Humanitarian)—for applicants living in their home country who are subject to persecution. • Subclass 203 (Emergency Rescue)—for applicants who are living in or outside their home country and who are in urgent need of protection because there is an immediate threat to their life and security. • Subclass 204 (Woman at Risk)—for female applicants and their dependants who are subject to persecution or are people of concern to UNHCR, are living outside their home country without the protection of a male relative and are in danger of victimisation, harassment or serious abuse because of their gender. This subclass recognises the priority given by UNHCR to the protection of refugee women who are in particularly vulnerable situations. The only subclass under the SHP is: Subclass 202 (Global Special Humanitarian) —the applicant must be subject to substantial discrimination amounting to gross violation of their human rights in their home country, living outside their home country at the time of application and have links with Australia. If the application is successful, SHP proposers help the applicant organise and pay for their travel to Australia and assist with their accommodation and initial orientation in Australia. SHP proposers must be an Australian citizen, permanent resident or eligible New Zealand citizen over the age of 18, or an organisation operating in Australia.
Program year	The period beginning from 1 July to 30 June of the following year.
Refugee	Individuals recognized under the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees; its 1967 Protocol; the 1969 OAU Convention Governing the Specific Aspects of Refugee Problems in Africa; those recognized in accordance with the UNHCR Statute; individuals granted complementary forms of protection; or, those enjoying temporary protection. The refugee population also includes people in a refugee-like situation. A person who has been found to be a refugee as defined in the Refugee Convention. Article 1 of the 1951 Refugee Convention defines a 'refugee' as: 'a person who is outside their country of nationality and unable or unwilling to return because of a well-founded fear of persecution for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion. It obliges signatories not to expel or return refugees to a country where their life or freedom would be threatened on account of their race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion'
