About this report

This report provides monthly and program year data on the Working Holiday Maker (WHM) visa program administered by the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (the department). The report has been provided to assist policymakers and stakeholder organisations.

This report is published every six months, and further developments will occur over time to increase and improve information sharing about the WHM visa program. Current and previous versions of the report are available on the department's website. These reports, as well as a quarterly Working Holiday Maker visa grants pivot table, are available at <http://www.border.gov.au/about/reports-publications/research-statistics/statistics/visit-australia>.

Data is sourced from several departmental visa processing and recording systems. Data can be dynamic and there can be delays in transmission of information from the department's global operations. Variations in figures between this report and previous reports can occur. Due to these issues, data from the current financial year should always be considered provisional.

Further information about the Working Holiday Maker visa program is available on the department's website at: <http://www.border.gov.au/Trav/Visa-1/417->
<http://www.border.gov.au/Trav/Visa-1/462->

Notes on statistical tables presented by citizenship country

A result of 'na' indicates that the country did not have a Working Holiday Maker arrangement with Australia during the specified period. This may be because the arrangement had not yet commenced or the arrangement is no longer in place. Refer to the table 'Australia's Working Holiday Maker arrangements' in the 'Background to the Working Holiday Maker visa program' section.

A citizenship country of 'Not Specified' can result from eligible dual nationality applicants where the non-eligible nationality has been recorded for the WHM application.

Enquiries

Any comment or enquiries concerning this report should be sent to visa.reporting@border.gov.au quoting report ID BR0110.

Definition of terms

Citizenship country:	The country of citizenship of the visa applicant or visa holder. Where a visa applicant or visa holder has more than one citizenship country, either the citizenship of the travel document or the citizenship nominated by the visa applicant is used.
Granted:	Unless otherwise specified, the number of visas granted includes all visa grants.
Snapshot date:	The snapshot date is a point in time at which a count is undertaken. In this report, the number of visa holders in Australia at a point in time is used.
Visa applicant:	Used to refer to clients applying for a visa.
Working Holiday Maker:	Refers collectively to both the Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa and the Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa.

Background to the Working Holiday Maker visa program

The purpose of the Working Holiday Maker (WHM) visa program is to foster closer ties and cultural exchange between Australia and partner countries, with particular emphasis on young adults. It has been in existence since 1975. Today, the WHM visa program is comprised of the Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa and the Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa programs. Partner countries initially comprised a relatively small number of Commonwealth countries, but the program has since grown to encompass 39 partner nations and regions (Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China) from across the globe.

Australia has an overarching bilateral arrangement, usually in the form of a Memorandum of Understanding, with each partner country. Of the 39 partner countries, 19 are Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa arrangements, and 20 are Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa arrangements. The key differences between the two visas are that Work and Holiday visa arrangements generally have caps on the number of visas granted annually and additional eligibility requirements. The Work and Holiday visa arrangements that Australia has signed with Ecuador, Greece, Papua New Guinea, Peru and Singapore were not in effect as at 30 June 2017. Each of these arrangements will be implemented once both Australia and the partner country have the necessary legislative and administrative systems in place. Announcements will be made on the Department's website once implementation processes are complete, enabling participants to lodge visa applications.

WHM arrangements are generally reciprocal, providing Australians with similar opportunities overseas. In considering whether to add new WHM partner countries, the Australian Government considers a range of factors, including the ability of the prospective partner to offer reciprocity to Australians, and the strength of any cultural and people-to-people links.

Eligibility requirements

All WHM (both Working Holiday and Work and Holiday) visa applicants must:

- be aged 18-30 (inclusive) at time of application
- hold a passport from an eligible partner country. A list of eligible countries is provided in the 'Australia's Working Holiday Maker Visa Arrangements' section of this report
- not be accompanied by dependent children during their stay in Australia
- meet health and character requirements
- meet financial requirements.

Work and Holiday visa applicants must meet additional requirements, including:

- functional English
- successful completion of at least two years of undergraduate university study (except Israel & USA)
- a letter of home government support in association with their visa application (except China, Israel & USA).

Working while in Australia

All WHMs may work for the full duration of their 12 month stay in Australia, but cannot generally remain with any one employer for longer than six months (by operation of mandatory visa condition 8547).

A visa holder may work for the same employer for a combined total of more than 6 months, provided the work is undertaken in a different location and work in any one location does not exceed 6 months. Examples include different hotels or restaurants in the same chain; independently-owned franchises; and separate branches or facilities (such as farms or abattoirs) of the same organisation or business owner. However, working in a different position at the same workplace (for example, changing to a cleaning role after initially working for 6 months at reception) would be considered a continuation of employment with the same employer.

WHM visa holders may be eligible for an extension of the six month employment limitation in certain circumstances, including:

- Visa holders who have carried out six months work as an au pair anywhere in Australia may be given approval to work for up to six additional months with the same employer.
- Visa holders who have carried out six months work in eligible industries in northern Australia may be given approval to work for up to six additional months with the same employer. The eligible industries are aged and disability care, agriculture, forestry and fishing, construction, mining, and tourism and hospitality.

Studying while in Australia

All WHMs are entitled to study for a period of up to four months during their 12 month stay in Australia.

Background to the Working Holiday Maker visa program - continued

Second Working Holiday

Participants are generally limited to holding only one Working Holiday visa or Work and Holiday visa in their lifetime.

However, first-time Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa holders who complete three months of 'specified work' in regional Australia during their stay acquire eligibility to apply for a second such visa.

'Specified work' includes work in the agriculture, mining and construction industries. For the purposes of second Working Holiday visa eligibility, regional Australia includes large parts of rural and regional Australia, which are identified in a list of postcodes available on the department's website at:

<http://www.border.gov.au/Trav/Visa-1/417->.

Second Work and Holiday

To apply for a second Work and Holiday visa, applicants must have already completed three months of specified subclass 462 work in northern Australia. This work must have been completed while on a first Work and Holiday visa and must have been undertaken after 18 November 2016 in order to be counted towards the three months' specified subclass 462 work total.

Specified subclass 462 work is work that is undertaken in a 'specified' field or industry in a designated area in northern Australia. Further information on the second 462 is available on the Department's website at <http://www.border.gov.au/Trav/Visa-1/462->

Processing times

The visa processing service standard for first Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa applications is that 75 per cent are finalised within six calendar days of lodgement. In 2016-17, 71.6 per cent of first Working Holiday visas were finalised within service standards. The service standard for second Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa applications is that 75 per cent are finalised within 21 calendar days of lodgement. In 2016-17, 61.3 per cent of second Working Holiday visas were finalised within service standards.

The visa processing service standard for online Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa applications (USA nationals only) is that 75 per cent are finalised within six calendar days of lodgement. In 2016-17, 78.2 per cent of online Work and Holiday visa applications were finalised within service standards. The service standard for paper Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa applications is that 75 per cent are finalised within 14 calendar days of lodgement. In 2016-17, 65.8 per cent of paper Work and Holiday visa applications were finalised within service standards.

Processing times can be affected by factors such as the completeness of applications lodged and additional checks performed by visa processing officers, such as those relating to health and character.

Note: In March 2017, the Department introduced the publishing of current global visa and citizenship processing times on its website. Global visa and citizenship processing times are updated monthly, and have replaced the previously published service standards. From 1 July 2017 the Department ceased reporting on service standards and future reports will no longer include this information. Global visa and citizenship processing times are available from the following website: <http://www.border.gov.au/about/access-accountability/service-standards/global-visa-citizenship-processing-times>

Recent developments in the Working Holiday Maker visa program (from 1 January 2017 to 30 June 2017)

Commencement of Work and Holiday visa arrangements with Hungary, San Marino, Luxembourg and Vietnam

Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa arrangements between Australia and Hungary (200 cap), San Marino (100 cap) and Luxembourg (100 cap) commenced on 1 January 2017, and Vietnam (200 cap) on 1 March 2017, enabling the commencement of visa grants under these arrangements.

Work and Holiday arrangement signed with Ecuador, Peru and Singapore

A new Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa arrangement with Ecuador was signed on 19 January 2017 and with Peru on 24 May 2017. These arrangements will enable up to 100 young, educated people from each country to undertake a working holiday in Australia. It also allows Australians to have a working holiday in these countries as well.

A new Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa arrangement with Singapore was signed on 2 May 2017. The arrangement will enable up to 500 young, educated people from Australia and Singapore to undertake a working holiday in each other's country.

As at 30 June 2017, a commencement date has not been determined for the Work and Holiday visa arrangements with Ecuador, Peru and Singapore. The arrangements will commence at a time to be agreed with the partner countries government.

Further Work and Holiday program developments, including commencement dates for new Work and Holiday visa arrangements, will be announced on the department's website at: <http://www.border.gov.au/Trav/Visa-1/462->.

Second Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa initiatives to support northern Australia

On 18 November 2016, a second Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa commenced. From that date, subclass 462 visa holders who undertake three months (88 days) work during their stay in agriculture, tourism or hospitality industries within northern Australia may become eligible to apply for a second Work and Holiday visa. For this purpose, northern Australia includes all of the Northern Territory, and those parts of Western Australia and Queensland above the Tropic of Capricorn. A list of eligible postcodes is available at the Department's website at <http://www.border.gov.au/Trav/Visa-1/462->.

There have been 409 second subclass 462 visa grants since the commencement of this initiative.

Executive Summary

Key Points

- In 2016-17: a total of 211,011 Working Holiday Maker (WHM) visas (subclass 417 and subclass 462) were granted, a 1.7 per cent reduction compared to 2015-16.
- There was a 1.0 per cent reduction in first Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa grants to 157,858 and a 6.0 per cent reduction in second Working Holiday visa grants to 34,097. Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa grants increased by 0.8 per cent to 19,056.
- There were 409 grants of the new second Work and Holiday visa.
- There were 134,296 WHM visa holders in Australia at 30 June 2017, a 2.3 per cent reduction compared to 30 June 2016.

1 Applications lodged

In 2016-17, there was a 2.2 per cent reduction in WHM visa application lodgements compared to 2015-16.

There were a total of 159,444 first Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa applications, 35,018 second Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa applications, 19,851 first Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa applications and 673 second Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa applications lodged in 2015-16.

The very high average grant rate of WHM visas (98.0 per cent - see Section 3) means the number of visas granted tends to be very close to the number of visa applications lodged during the period, noting that there can be a delay between lodgement and grant.

2 Visas granted

First Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa program

In 2016-17, 157,858 first Working Holiday visas were granted. This is a 1 per cent reduction compared to 2015-16.

Reductions in Working Holiday visa grant numbers may be influenced by a range of factors including changing economic conditions and seasonal variability in visa application numbers in partner countries.

The top five countries for first Working Holiday visa grants were:

- United Kingdom (down 4.5 per cent to 32,517)
- Germany (down 0.9 per cent to 23,996)
- France (up 5.5 per cent to 19,546)
- South Korea (up 3.8 per cent to 18,400)
- Taiwan (down 3.3 per cent to 14,309).

Second Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa program

In 2016-17, 34,097 second Working Holiday visas were granted. This is a 6 per cent reduction compared to 2015-16. This is largely the result of a flow-on effect from a reduction in first Working Holiday visa grants in 2015-16.

There is a direct but delayed flow-on relationship between the rate of first Working Holiday visa grants and the rate of second Working Holiday visa grants, which usually takes 12 to 18 months to be reflected in the data. Thus, where there has been an increase or decrease in first Working Holiday visa grants, a similar but delayed trend could be expected to flow through to second Working Holiday visa grants.

The top five countries for second Working Holiday visa grants were:

- United Kingdom (down 3.3 per cent to 7,811)
- Taiwan (down 0.3 per cent to 7,330)
- South Korea (down 6.8 per cent to 4,012)
- France (down 6.1 per cent to 2,815)
- Japan (down 1.9 per cent to 2,179).

In 2016-17, around 93 per cent of the second Working Holiday visa applicants indicated they engaged in agricultural work to acquire eligibility, around six per cent undertook construction work, and less than one per cent undertook mining work (see Table 2.21). The employment of the remaining participants (less than one per cent) has not been disaggregated.

Combined Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa program

A total of 191,955 combined Working Holiday (first and second) visas were granted in 2016-17.

First Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa program

A total of 18,647 first Work and Holiday visas were granted in 2016-17. This is a 1.4 per cent decrease compared to 2015-16.

The top five countries for visa grants under the Work and Holiday visa program were:

- United States of America (down 10.7 per cent to 7,745)
- China (no change - 5,000)
- Chile (up 0.1 per cent to 1,501)
- Indonesia (up 28.9 per cent to 1,000)
- Argentina (no change - 700).

The majority of partner countries met their annual caps by the end of the 2016-17 program year.

Second Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa program

A total of 409 second Work and Holiday visas were granted in 2016-17.

The top five countries for second Work and Holiday visa grants were:

- China (189)
- Chile (62)
- United States of America (47)
- Argentina (16)
- Spain (12)

3 Grant rates

The grant rate for first Working Holiday visas for 2016-17 was 98.5 per cent and the grant rate for second Working Holiday visas was 95.7 per cent. The grant rate for first Work and Holiday visas was 98.4 per cent and the grant rate for second Work and Holiday visas was 90.7%.

4 Working Holiday Makers in Australia

Working Holiday (subclass 417) visa holders

As at 30 June 2017, there were 120,915 Working Holiday visa holders in Australia (first and second visas). This is a 4.6 per cent reduction in the number of Working Holiday visa holders in Australia compared to 30 June 2016.

Work and Holiday (subclass 462) visa holders

As at 30 June 2017, there were 13,354 Work and Holiday visa holders in Australia. This is a 25.7 per cent increase in the number of Work and Holiday visa holders in Australia compared to 30 June 2016.
